

LITERATURE IN ENGLISH SYLLABUS FOR A' LEVEL (S4-S6)

Kigali, 2026

© 2026 Rwanda Basic Education Board.

All rights reserved.

*This book is property of the Government of Rwanda.
Credit must be given to REB when the content is quoted.*

FOREWORD

The Rwanda Basic Education Board (REB) is honoured to present the second edition of the upper secondary school Literature in English syllabus (S4–S6). It serves as an official guide for competence-based teaching and learning, ensuring consistency in delivering quality education across the country. Developed collaboratively by subject specialists, educators, and curriculum developers, it supports the implementation of the Competence-Based Curriculum (CBC) and reflects Rwanda's commitment to nurturing learners' knowledge, skills, values, and attitudes.

Quality education is the foundation of Rwanda's sustainable development and prosperity. Aligned with the national education philosophy, this syllabus promotes critical thinking, creativity, communication, inclusiveness, and holistic learner development. It aims to empower young people with the competences necessary to achieve their full potential, equipping them with relevant knowledge, literary skills, the right attitudes and values to integrate effectively into society and pursue opportunities in a competitive world.

Anchored in Rwanda Vision 2050 and the National Strategy for Transformation (NST2), this syllabus supports the nation's goal of building a knowledge-based economy driven by innovation, resilience, and global competitiveness. It prioritises learner-centred pedagogy, active learning, and the practical application of knowledge to prepare students not only for academic success but also to become responsible, ethical, and productive citizens who can contribute to Rwanda's continued transformation. Through the study of Literature in English, learners develop creativity, analytical thinking, effective communication skills, cultural awareness, and appreciation of human experiences and values.

This syllabus reflects our determination to equip learners with 21st-century skills, foster innovation, and instil values of integrity, social responsibility, empathy, and lifelong learning. Its success depends largely on the dedication and professionalism of teachers and school leaders. We therefore call upon all educators to embrace the approaches, methodologies, and assessment strategies outlined herein with commitment and passion, transforming classrooms into dynamic spaces of curiosity, creativity, reflection, and inspiration.

On behalf of REB, I extend my heartfelt appreciation to all who contributed to the development of this syllabus. Your expertise and dedication have been instrumental in shaping a curriculum that responds to the needs of our learners. Together, we can ensure that education continues to be a powerful driver of our nation's development and prosperity. Any comment or contribution would be welcome for the improvement of this syllabus.

Dr. MBARUSHIMANA Nelson
Director General, REB

ACKNOWLEDGEMENT

The development of this syllabus has been a collective effort that reflects the dedication, expertise, and commitment of many stakeholders. On behalf of the Curriculum, Teaching and Learning Resources Department of the Rwanda Basic Education Board (REB), I wish to express my deepest appreciation to all who contributed to the successful preparation of this upper secondary school Literature in English syllabus (S4–S6).

Special thanks go to the subject experts, curriculum developers, teachers, and education partners whose insights, feedback, and professional contributions have been invaluable in shaping this syllabus. Your collaboration has ensured that the syllabus is not only aligned with Rwanda's Competence-Based Curriculum but also responsive to the aspirations of Vision 2050 and the National Strategy for Transformation (NST2).

We also acknowledge the invaluable support of development partners and education stakeholders who have consistently provided technical assistance in curriculum adaptation. Your partnership has greatly strengthened Rwanda's education system.

Finally, we call upon teachers, school leaders, and all education practitioners to use this syllabus with commitment and professionalism, ensuring that classrooms become vibrant learning environments that nurture knowledge, literary skills, values, and positive attitudes among learners. Through your dedication, this syllabus will fulfil its purpose of empowering learners to realise their full potential and contribute meaningfully to Rwanda's sustainable development.

MURUNGI Joan

Head of Curriculum, Teaching and Learning Resources Department Rwanda Basic Education Board (REB)

TABLE OF CONTENTS

FOREWORD	iii
ACKNOWLEDGEMENT	v
General Introduction	8
1. GENERAL INTRODUCTION	1
1.1 Background to the syllabus adaptation	1
1.2. Literature in English and Society	1
1.3 Literature in English and the Learners	2
2. COMPETENCES	2
2.1 Generic Competences	2
2.2. Broad Literature in English Competences	3
2.3. Literature in English and the Development of Competencies	4
3. PEDAGOGICAL APPROACH.....	5
3.1. The Role of the Teacher.....	5
3.2. The Role of the Learner	6
3.3. Inclusive and Special Needs Education.....	7
4. ASSESSMENT APPROACH	8
4.1. Levels of Assessment	8
4.2. Structure and Format of National Examination Papers	9

4.3. Record Keeping	11
4.4. Item Writing in Summative Assessment.....	11
SENIOR Four	13
SENIOR FIVE	37
SENIOR SIX	60
LIST OF REFERENCES	80

General Introduction

1. GENERAL INTRODUCTION

1.1 Background to the syllabus adaptation

The Upper Secondary Literature in English syllabus serves as a roadmap that guides learning by enabling learners to acquire the knowledge, skills, attitudes, and values necessary to appreciate, analyze, and respond to literary works in English critically and creatively. It incorporates English language aspects that support learners in developing essential language competencies, particularly reading, writing, listening, and speaking skills for effective communication and overall language proficiency. It builds on the foundation laid at the Lower Secondary level and deepens learners' competence through extensive engagement with a wide range of literary genres, periods, and cultural contexts. The syllabus emphasizes literary appreciation, interpretation, composition, and critical analysis of Oral Literature, Prose, Poetry, and Drama. It aligns with Rwanda's Competence-Based Curriculum (CBC) and national development goals such as Vision 2050 and the National Strategy for Transformation (NST2), which highlight the importance of language, literacy, creativity, and critical thinking for a knowledge-based economy, cultural identity, and responsible citizenship.

1.2. Literature in English and Society

The study of Literature in English plays a vital role in a society where English serves as a key language of learning, communication, and global connection. It nurtures learners' ability to understand themselves and their communities while engaging with diverse cultural and human experiences. Through the study of Literature, learners develop empathy, moral reasoning, and a critical understanding of human experiences and societal realities. They become more reflective, culturally aware, and socially responsible individuals capable of examining complex issues from diverse perspectives. Literature also empowers learners to take an active role in addressing societal challenges by expressing ideas creatively through allegorical writing, narratives, poetry, drama, and other literary forms that inspire awareness, dialogue, and positive social change. They learn to appreciate the richness of both Rwandan and global cultures while embracing values of peace, integrity, resilience and creativity. Ultimately, Literature in English equips learners to become thoughtful, active, and responsible citizens of Rwanda and the wider world.

1.3 Literature in English and the Learners

At the Upper Secondary level, learners are expected to read, interpret, analyze, evaluate, and create original literary works independently, applying the moral, social, and cultural insights gained into real-life situations that promote responsible citizenship and improved living standards. The study of Literature in English nurtures imagination, emotional sensitivity, and moral reasoning. It exposes students to universal themes such as justice, love, conflict resolution, identity and freedom, helping them develop a deeper understanding of themselves and the world around them. Literature is a source of both pleasure and knowledge through the purposeful and creative use of language in texts. Studying Literature offers learners opportunities to explore a wide range of literary works written in diverse contexts and from different parts of the world.

In this regard, Literature cultivates a global outlook in learners and connects them to various cultures, histories, and human experiences across time.

2. Competences

Competences in this syllabus represent a balanced integration of knowledge, skills, attitudes, and values that enable learners to analyze, interpret, and create literary works meaningfully. Teachers should design activities that encourage learners to explore literature through reading, performance, discussion, and creative production, allowing them to demonstrate competences holistically.

2.1 Generic Competences

Generic competences are cross-cutting abilities developed across all subjects. They equip learners with essential lifelong learning skills and underpin all other competences in the curriculum.

Critical and problem-solving skills: Learners develop the ability to think objectively and interpret social and moral issues represented in literature. They evaluate characters' actions, causes, and consequences, and draw lessons applicable to real-life situations, promoting harmony and sustainable living.

Creativity and innovation: Learners use imagination and originality to interpret texts, produce creative writing, dramatize literary works, and generate new insights from familiar ideas.

Research: Learners acquire the ability to investigate literary, cultural, and historical contexts through diverse sources such as texts, interviews, and digital archives, supporting informed literary interpretation and independent inquiry.

Communication: Learners develop precision and expressiveness in English through literary discussion, analysis, and presentation. They communicate confidently and respectfully in spoken and written forms, expressing ideas with clarity, logic, and aesthetic awareness.

Cooperation, interpersonal management, and life skills: Learners collaborate in group discussions, dramatizations, and peer reviews. They learn to respect differing opinions, demonstrate empathy, and uphold moral and social values reflected in literature, thereby strengthening teamwork, leadership, and civic responsibility.

Lifelong learning: Learners cultivate curiosity, critical reflection, and adaptability by connecting literary study to real-life experiences and societal issues. This competence empowers them to continue exploring literature beyond the classroom and to apply its insights from it to personal and social development.

2.2. Broad Literature in English Competences

By the end of the Literature in English course, students should be able to:

- Discover the joy of reading literary texts and develop new ways of perceiving and interpreting the world around them.
- Develop the skills to read, analyze, and appreciate literary texts critically and independently.
- Demonstrate understanding of writers' choices of form, structure, language, and meaning.
- Produce informed, independent, and well-reasoned opinions and judgments about literary works.
- Discuss and evaluate differing interpretations and opinions of literary texts.

- Communicate information, ideas, and emotions appropriately and effectively in a range of social and cultural contexts.
- Read with confidence and comprehension across a variety of literary and non-literary texts.
- Produce informed and well-reasoned opinions, interpretations, and judgments about literary works and societal issues.
- Demonstrate effective reading, writing, speaking, and listening skills for appropriate communication in different social, academic, and cultural contexts.
- Apply creativity and innovation in producing original literary and language-based works.
- Demonstrate critical thinking, ethical values, and problem-solving skills in responding to real-life situations and contemporary issues.

2.3. Literature in English and the Development of Competencies

The Literature in English syllabus aligns with the national policy framework, which emphasizes the development of both basic competencies and generic competencies necessary for lifelong learning and responsible citizenship. These competencies foster higher-order thinking and ensure that learners can apply their knowledge and skills in real-life contexts.

Through the study and appreciation of literary works, learners develop critical and creative thinking, communication, and problem-solving skills. They also strengthen their deductive and inductive reasoning as they interpret meaning, make inferences, and draw conclusions from texts. Furthermore, the study of literature enables learners to identify and examine human attitudes, values, feelings, and ideas presented in texts. It encourages innovation, creativity, and research using language artistically as they explore various forms of human expression and imagination in literary words.

Group discussions, dramatizations, and cooperative learning activities in Literature nurture teamwork and interpersonal relationships. In doing so, the subject contributes to the formation of responsible, empathetic, and informed citizens who appreciate cultural diversity and demonstrate the ability to critique and value literary works across different periods and traditions.

3. PEDAGOGICAL APPROACH

Teaching and learning Literature in English at the Upper Secondary level should be learner-centred, participatory, creative, and inclusive. Lessons should develop learners' ability to read, interpret, analyse, and produce literary texts that reflect human experience, values, and social realities.

Teachers are encouraged to integrate reading, critical thinking, discussion, and creative writing in order to help learners appreciate literature both as an art form and a means of understanding the world around them.

3.1. The Role of the Teacher

The shift to a Competence-Based Curriculum calls for transforming learning into a process that is engaging, reflective, and skill-oriented. Lessons in Literature in English should inspire learners to think critically, communicate effectively, and express themselves creatively. The teacher serves as a facilitator, mentor, and evaluator, creating opportunities for learners to explore literature through varied and participatory activities.

Teachers should:

- Plan and guide interactive lessons that promote independent and collaborative learning.
- Use diverse methods such as dramatization, debates, projects, storytelling, and literary circles to make lessons engaging.
- Design tasks that encourage learners to interpret texts critically and construct their own opinions and responses.
- Guide learners in using various sources such as novels, poems, plays, newspapers, and digital resources to enrich their learning.
- Incorporate Creative Writing Projects in prose, poetry, and drama through which learners are guided to present their own literary works based on contemporary social issues such as gender equality, environmental protection, peace, and moral values

- Support learners in editing, performing, and publishing their creative pieces, reinforcing both language and artistic skills.
- Provide remedial and enrichment activities to meet diverse learning needs.
- Connect literature to real-life contexts, encouraging learners to relate literary messages to personal, social, and national development.

Through these approaches, the teacher helps learners move beyond memorization towards critical appreciation, empathy, and creativity in their study of Literature in English.

3.2. The Role of the Learner

Learners are at the centre of the learning process. They learn best when they are actively engaged in exploring, discussing, interpreting, and creating meaning from literary texts and language experiences.

In Literature in English, learners should:

- Read, interpret, analyse, and appreciate a variety of literary genres such as prose, poetry, drama and oral literature from local, African, and world literature.
- Participate in reading activities, oral presentations, dramatizations, debates, storytelling, recitations, and group discussions to strengthen reading, speaking, listening, and critical thinking skills.
- Produce original literary and language-based works that express their ideas, emotions, creativity, and perspectives on contemporary social issues affecting their communities and the wider world.
- Work individually and collaboratively to research authors, analyse literary techniques, interpret texts, and present creative and oral performances.
- Reflect on moral, cultural, ethical, and aesthetic values presented in literary texts and relate them to real-life situations and experiences.
- Engage in project-based learning activities such as producing anthologies, of short stories, plays, poetry performances, scripts, and other creative outputs that demonstrate creativity, innovation, communication, and problem-solving skills.

Through these experiences, learners develop as independent thinkers, effective communicators, and creative contributors to society.

3.3. Inclusive and Special Needs Education

All learners at the Upper Secondary level have the right to equitable access to quality Literature in English education, regardless of their abilities or backgrounds. Teaching should therefore be inclusive, flexible, and responsive to individual learning differences.

Teachers should:

- Adapt instructional strategies, content, and assessment to suit diverse needs.
- Use assistive devices, visual aids, audio texts, and digital resources to support learners with special educational needs.
- Encourage peer support and cooperative learning to promote inclusion and empathy.
- Create a safe and respectful classroom environment where every learner's ideas and creative efforts are valued.
- Collaborate with parents and specialists where necessary to support learners who need additional help.

An inclusive approach ensures that all learners, including those with disabilities, are actively involved in studying, interpreting, and producing literature, fostering both academic success and social cohesion.

4. ASSESSMENT APPROACH

Assessment in Literature in English is an integral part of the teaching and learning process. It evaluates the extent to which learners have developed competences in reading, interpreting, analysing, appreciating, and producing literary texts. Assessment focuses on the learner's ability to apply knowledge, think critically, respond creatively, and demonstrate values and attitudes reflected in literature.

4.1. Levels of Assessment

To provide a comprehensive picture of learners' achievement and development, assessment in Literature in English is conducted at different levels:

(a) Diagnostic Assessment

Conducted before the beginning of a unit or lesson to identify learners' prior knowledge, interests, and reading habits. It helps teachers plan appropriate activities and select suitable texts.

(b) Formative / Continuous Assessment (Assessment for Learning)

This assessment is conducted throughout the learning process to monitor learners' progress and provide feedback. Teachers use methods such as observation, oral questioning, reading novels, poetry and plays, peer reviews, creative writing drafts, quizzes, and oral performance tasks. It helps identify strengths and learning gaps, allowing for remedial support and enrichment. Continuous assessment ensures learners progressively master key competences such as critical reading, interpretation, communication, and creativity.

(c) Summative Assessment (Assessment of Learning)

Summative assessment evaluates the learner's achievement at specific points in time and contributes to progression, grading, and certification.

End of Term I: School-based assessment focusing on Term I content.

End of Term II: District-coordinated assessment designed to measure learners' grasp of Term II competences.

End of Term III: National assessment to evaluate mastery of the entire year's content; prepared, set, and moderated by NESA at the end of the third term.

National assessment prepared, moderated, and administered by NESA to evaluate mastery of the entire year's content.

National Examinations (S6): A summative evaluation administered by NESA at the end of the Advanced Level. It integrates objective, analytical, and creative, written and oral tasks to holistically assess learners' literary and language competences.

School, district, and national assessments are weighed and recorded cumulatively, with school-based assessment contributing 10% of the final national grade, increasing progressively as teachers gain expertise in competence-based assessment.

4.2. Structure and Format of National Examination Papers

There will be two examination papers for Literature in English at Advanced Level:

Paper One: Reading and Writing

This paper will assess learners' knowledge, understanding, interpretation, and critical analysis of literary texts and language concepts through reading and written responses.

Section A: Literary Genres

Learners will be assessed on the general competencies and knowledge acquired in Oral Literature, Prose, Poetry, and Drama.

Section B: Set Novels, Short Stories, and Plays

Learners answer questions on set novels, short stories and plays to assess their ability to interpret, analyse and evaluate literary texts, apply literary knowledge and skills, and demonstrate their competence effectively in real-life contexts

Section C: Language Aspects

Learners answer questions that assess language competencies related to reading comprehension, vocabulary use, grammar, language structures, and written expression within literary contexts.

Section D: Creative Writing

Learners answer question that assess their ability to apply creativity and literary techniques in producing original written compositions such as prose, poetry, scripts, narratives, or other literary pieces based on given themes or contemporary issues.

Paper Two: Oral Performance

This paper will assess learners' speaking and listening skills in English through the oral interpretation and performance of literary works. It will evaluate learners' oral communication abilities, interpretation skills, and their capacity to express ideas effectively in literary contexts with confidence, clarity, and communicative competence. The paper may include activities such as oral interpretation of literary texts, presentations, recitations, dramatic performances, debates, storytelling, and discussions based on literary analysis.

Each paper carries 100 marks, and assessment will focus on learners' ability to analyze themes, characters, style, structure, language use, and values, as well as demonstrate critical thinking, creativity, and effective communication skills.

The examination of reading and writing competencies will carry a weighting of 70% of the overall examination, while Oral Performance examination will carry a weighting of 30% of the overall examination.

4.3. Record Keeping

Teachers should systematically record learners' performance using portfolios, rubrics, checklists, and observation notes to monitor progress in both reading and writing skills as well as oral performance competencies in Literature and English language development. These records may include:

- Learners' written analyses, essays, literary interpretations, and creative writing pieces based on prose, poetry, drama, novels, and short stories.
- Oral presentations, debates, storytelling, recitations, literary discussions, and dramatizations that assess speaking and listening skills through literary work analysis.
- Peer-assessment and self-assessment feedback related to learners' written and oral performance.
- Creative writing project outputs, such as prose, poetry, drama, or other literary compositions addressing contemporary social issues and real-life contexts.

Portfolios provide evidence of learners' progress in reading comprehension, written expression, speaking and listening competencies, interpretation, critical thinking, creativity, and moral reasoning. They support continuous feedback, remedial interventions, and communication with parents, teachers, and school administrators.

4.4. Item Writing in Summative Assessment

Summative assessment items must be valid, reliable, fair, and aligned with Competence-Based Curriculum (CBC) principles. They should assess a broad range of literary and language competencies, including comprehension, interpretation, analysis, evaluation, communication, and creativity, while reflecting real-life contexts, values, and ethical considerations.

When developing tests or examinations, item writers should:

- Identify the topic areas and literary genres to be assessed, including oral literature, prose, poetry, drama, set novels, short stories, plays, creative writing, and language aspects as prescribed in the syllabus.

- Outline the subject content and key learning outcomes to be measured according to the competencies and skills specified in the syllabus.
- Prepare a table of specifications or test blueprint indicating the distribution of sections, question types, marks allocation, and levels of cognitive demand.
- Use action verbs that promote higher-order thinking skills such as analyse, interpret, evaluate, create, justify, compare, explain, and apply.
- Ensure that questions are scenario-based and contextualized to allow learners to apply acquired knowledge and competencies to authentic situations.
- Integrate values, cultural awareness, creativity, communicative competence, and critical thinking rather than focusing only on recall of information.
- Apply transparent marking schemes that reward depth of interpretation, originality, coherence, creativity, language accuracy, and effective communication skills.
- Give appropriate weighting to reading, writing, speaking, and listening competencies as guided by the syllabus structure and examination requirements.

In Competence-Based Assessment, learners may be given contextualized literary and language tasks such as:

- Interpreting literary situations and scenarios.
- Analysing themes, values, characters, and literary techniques in set texts.
- Comparing literary perspectives and cultural contexts.
- Producing creative writing pieces such as prose, poetry, scripts, or narratives.
- Participating in oral presentations, debates, storytelling, recitations, and dramatizations.
- Responding to language-related tasks that demonstrate mastery of literary understanding, communication skills, and critical thinking.

SENIOR FOUR

Topic Area: Foundations of Literature			Sub-Topic Area: Prose
S4: Literature in English		Unit 1: Introduction to Literature		Nº of Periods 28
Key unit competence: To interpret literary texts in oral and written Literature while appreciating their cultural , moral and social value.
Learning objectives			Content	Learning activities
Knowledge and understanding	Skills	Attitudes and Values
Identify the meaning Literature and differentiate it from other works of art Explain the meaning and functions of literature Identify types of literature: oral and written Describe major forms of oral literature: folktales, fables, myths, legends,	Interpret moral, social, and cultural lessons in literature. Express ideas orally and in writing about literary works. Connect Literature to other subjects.	Appreciate Literature as a mirror society. Develop respect for oral traditions and literary heritage. Demonstrate critical thinking and ethical judgment. Collaborate and actively participate during group work.	Meaning and functions of Literature: cultural, moral, educational, aesthetic, entertainment, etc. Difference between the works of literature and other works of arts Connection to other subjects (Language, History,	Learners observe the displayed short excerpts from different literary texts (poem, folktale and short drama dialogue). In small groups, learners rotate around the room (Gallery Walk) and identify what the text is about. what function the text serves (Cultural, Moral, Entertainment, etc Educational, Entertainment or Aesthetic, the message it communicate.) Groups write their ideas on chart papers. Each group presents one example and justifies their classification.

oral poetry, songs, proverbs, riddles Identify characters, themes, messages, and stylistic features. Describe major genres of written literature: prose, drama, poetry	Apply critical thinking and creativity in literary analysis.	Exhibit curiosity and creativity in reading and writing. Show empathy for characters and situations in texts.	Psychology, Geography) Types of literature: (Oral and Written Literature) Oral Literature Folktales, Fables, Myths, Legends Oral Poetry and Songs: Epic, Ballads, Work Songs Short Forms: Proverbs, Riddles Written Literature (Prose, Drama, Poetry)	Learners vote on which function they think is most important and defend their position. Learners read: a poem and a short story; observe a painting; listen to a song. In pairs, learners compare prose and poetry Purpose; Medium of expression; Use of language; Emotional impact; Learners organise a mini-debate. Team A argues: "Literature is the most powerful art form." Team B argues: "Other art forms are equally powerful." Learners individually read a set short story, dramatic extract, or poem and trace connections related to language, history, psychology, and geography. After reading, they form groups based on what they noticed most in their analysis. For example, learners who focused more on language features group together, those who identified historical elements form another group, and the same applies to psychology and geography. The groups discuss and present how a character's behavior reflect psychology, language used , history and Geography in the literary text. Groups create a concept map Learners finally explain the connection between Literature and those subjects. Learners read different literary texts and classify into oral and written literature and explain their reasoning during group or class discussions. Learners explore folktales, fables, myths, and legends, acting out selected scenes in groups to experience the narrative and cultural context. Learners analyse rhythm, repetition, imagery, and themes in oral poetry, epics, ballads, and work songs, discussing how these features communicate cultural and social messages.
---	---	---	--	---

--	--	--	--	--

				Learners examine prose, drama, and short literary forms (trickster stories, riddles, proverbs), identifying characters, plot, stylistic features, and moral lessons, and summarize them orally or in writing. Learners create short literary work responses such as poems, dialogues, or role-plays inspired by texts, demonstrating comprehension, creativity, and application of cultural and moral lessons
Link to other subjects History: Relate story themes to historical events and societal values to understand context and author's message. Geography: Connect story settings to physical and human environments to visualize context. English Language: Apply comprehension, writing, and grammar skills (prefixes, suffixes, connectors) to analyse prose, drama, and poetry. Psychology: Examine characters' behavior, motivations, and social interactions.
Assessment criteria: Can identify the meaning of literature, explain its functions, key ideas and moral lessons. Identify and use prefixes and affixes correctly in writing and speaking. Describe and interpret major oral literature forms: folktales, fables, myths, legends, oral poetry, songs, proverbs, and riddles. Analyze characters, plot, themes, and stylistic features in prose, drama, and poetry. Summarise main ideas, interpret moral and cultural lessons, and apply appropriate language structures in oral and written responses.
Teaching and learning materials: Charts or posters of literary elements. Story maps or graphic organizers. Flashcards for language focus. Audio recordings of oral literature. ICT and AI for research and presentation.

Topic Area: Literary Genres			Sub-Topic Area:
S4: Literature in English		Unit 2: Key Aspects of Prose		Nº of Periods 21
Key unit competence: To interpret short prose texts by identifying their forms, elements, and messages using appropriate language connectors.
Learning objectives			Content	Learning activities
Knowledge and understanding	Skills	Attitudes and Values
Identify the meaning of prose and its main characteristics. Distinguish between fiction and non-fiction prose. Describe the forms of fiction prose (short stories, novellas, novels). Identify main ideas and supporting details while reading short stories.	Analys e the structure, plot, and development of events in prose texts Examine the characters' traits, motivations, and relationships using textual evidence Interpret themes, tone, and moral lessons in different short stories	Appreciate prose as a tool for exploring human experiences and cultural values. Show respect for diverse perspectives and experiences represented in literature. Demonstrate empathy for characters and situations in stories.	Introduction to prose: Understanding the meaning and characteristics of prose. Introduction to to fiction and non-fiction prose. Forms of Fiction Prose: Identifying short stories, novellas, and novels; understanding their features and purposes.	Learners, individually, read selected short stories to understand general meaning. Learners identify the meaning and key characteristics of prose through reading set short stories. Learners classify types of prose (fiction and non-fiction) through reading set short stories. Learners, in their groups, compare fiction and non-fiction prose through reading set short stories. Learners analyse key elements: characters, setting, plot, and theme through reading set short stories.

Explain the key elements of prose: plot, setting, character, theme, and message. Explain the structure and purpose of a short story. Discuss the main ideas and messages presented in selected prose texts.	Compare and contrast stories in terms of theme, style, and characterization Use connectors and time expressions appropriately when summarizing or writing narratives. Compose short creative prose paragraphs inspired by studied texts	Value moral and social lessons reflected in different short stories. Develop a positive attitude toward reading and analyzing literature. Collaborate effectively and respectfully in discussions and group analyses.	Character and Characterisation: Studying main and minor characters, their traits, motivations, and development. Plot Structure and Setting: Analysing narrative structure (introduction, climax, resolution) and the role of setting in a story. Theme and Message: Exploring central themes, moral lessons in short stories.	Learners discuss and describe different forms of fiction prose through reading set short stories. Learners examine characterisation and describe character traits through reading set short stories. Learners analyse plot structure and setting through reading set short stories. Learners interpret the message and theme of the story through reading set short stories. Learners use connectors and subordinating conjunctions in writing and speaking through reading set short stories. Learners summarise main ideas and evaluate moral lessons through reading set short stories.
---	--	--	--	--

			Applying connectors and time expressions (because, since, although, while, when, after, then, despite, etc.) in reading and writing activities.	Learners create short narratives or reflective paragraphs inspired by set short stories. Learners participate in end-of-unit assessments through comprehension, analysis, and writing based on set short stories.
Link to other subjects: History: Connect story themes to historical events and societal values to understand context and author's message. Geography: Relate settings to physical and human environments to visualize the story. English Language: Apply comprehension and writing skills to analyze prose and literary features
Assessment criteria: Can recall key features and types of prose. Identify characters, plot, setting, and themes in short stories Analyse characters, plot structure, and setting. Summarise main ideas and interpret messages or moral lessons. Use connectors and subordinating conjunctions correctly in writing and speaking. Demonstrate respect for diverse perspectives and reflect on moral lessons.
Teaching and learning materials: Charts or posters illustrating literary elements (plot, character, setting, theme) Story maps or graphic organisers. Flashcards with connectors and subordinating conjunctions. Audio recordings of stories (optional for listening practice). ICT and AI for research and presentation.

Topic Area: Literary Genres			Sub-Topic Area: Drama
S4: Literature in English		Unit3: Discovering ourselves through Novels		Nº of Periods 28
Key unit competence: To interpret how literary elements in novels convey moral values and life lessons through oral and written communication.
Learning objectives			Content	Learning activities
Knowledge and understanding	Skills	Attitudes and Values
Identify the author’s background, including nationality, cultural identity, and historical period. Explain how the author’s experiences shape the story. Recognize the literary context (African literature, post-colonial, world literature). Describe historical and social issues in the story, such as	Analnze conflicts and explain their significance. Summarise the story orally and in writing. Draw a plot diagram and sequence events correctly. Describe characters’ traits and development.	Appreciate cultural and historical contexts. Respect differing viewpoints and interpretations. Reflect on ethical and moral lessons in conflicts and themes. Value clarity and structure in communication. Show responsibility in completing tasks.	Introduction to a novel: Understanding the meaning and characteristics of novels. Author’s background and influences. Literary context and tradition. Elements of plot and types of conflict. Characters and characterisation techniques.	Learners in groups research the author’s background and present findings from the set novel. Learners in pairs discuss social and historical issues in the story. Draw a plot diagram showing exposition, climax, and resolution from the story. Identify types of conflict and explain their effect on the plot. Learners in groups make character charts for main and secondary characters.

colonialism, independence, and political conflicts. Identify elements of plot: exposition, rising action, climax, falling action, and resolution. Recognise types of conflict: Man versus. Man, Man versus. Society, Man versus. Nature, Man versus. Self. Identify main and secondary characters and their development. Recognise characterisation techniques (dialogue, actions, direct and indirect characterisation).	Analyse dialogue and actions to infer personality. Map settings and link them to events and themes. Identify themes and support them with evidence from the text. Apply narrative techniques in writing and oral work. Rewrite paragraphs from different perspectives.	Appreciate peer collaboration and constructive feedback. Demonstrate honesty in reflection and discussion.	Settings: geographical, historical, social, symbolic. Major and minor themes; moral lessons. Narrative techniques and language features Language focus: Prefer...to; would rather...than; be/get used to...	Analyse dialogue and actions to understand character traits. Learners in pairs map settings and link them to events and themes. Identify major and minor themes and discuss moral lessons. Write a paragraph on how a theme relates to personal experience. Identify narrative techniques in selected passages. Rewrite a paragraph from another character's perspective. Learners in groups present summaries and explain lessons from the story.
--	---	--	--	--

Identify settings: geographical, historical, social, and symbolic. Identify major and minor themes and moral lessons. Recognise narrative techniques and language features.	Present understanding of plot, characters, and themes clearly.
Link to other subjects History: Connect historical and social issues in the story to Rwandan and world history Geography: Link story settings to locations and environments. Psychology: Explore character motivations and conflicts. Creative Arts / Drama: Express understanding of characters and events through storytelling or role-play. Language: Practice reading, writing, speaking, and vocabulary using the set novel.
Assessment criteria: Can identify plot, characters, themes, settings, and literary techniques from the set novel. Analyse and summarise events, conflicts, and character development in writing and orally. Reflect on moral lessons and link them to personal experience and other subjects.
Teaching and learning materials: Set novel for reading and analysis. Charts or poster paper for plot diagrams and character charts. Locally drawn storyboards for sequencing events. Handmade character masks or puppets for role-play. Large sheets of recycled paper for mapping settings and plot diagrams. ICT and AI for research and presentation.

Topic Area: Literary Genres			Sub-Topic Area: Prose
S4: Literature in English		Unit 4: Introduction to African Literary Traditions		Nº of Periods 21
Key unit competence: To analyse African literary traditions by examining their genres, themes, language, and cultural contexts, in appreciation of African identity.
Learning objectives			Content	Learning activities
Knowledge and understanding	Skills	Attitudes and Values
Identify general characteristics of epics, folktales, proverbs, and poetry. Recognise structure, characters, language, style, setting, and themes of African literary works. Understand differences between pre-colonial, colonial,	Summarise epics, folktales, proverbs, and poems in writing and orally. Analyse characters, setting, themes, and messages. Compare pre-colonial, colonial, and post-colonial literary texts. Identify and explain idiomatic expressions.	Appreciate African identity, cultural values, and historical experiences. Respect others’ viewpoints during discussions Reflect on moral lessons from literary works. Show responsibility in completing assignments.	Precolonial literary texts: Epics, folktales, and proverbs Types of poetry: Dirges, pastoral poetry, royal poetry, chants Colonial literary texts: Themes, style, context, character. Post-colonial literary texts: Language style, context, major authors, and works	Learners in groups read and discuss the epic and answer comprehension questions. Learners in pairs analyse folktales, focusing on characters, setting, and themes. Through reading proverbs, learners identify cultural values and discuss moral lessons. Learners read different types of poetry and identify style, theme, and language features. In pairs, learners compare pre-colonial and colonial literary texts, noting differences in style and context.

and post-colonial African literary traditions. Recognize major African authors and their works. Identify language features including idiomatic expressions in literary texts.	Present ideas clearly in groups, pairs, and individually.		Use of idiomatic expressions	Learners analyze extracts from “The River Between” and “Things Fall Apart,” discussing characters and themes. Identify and explain idiomatic expressions from selected extracts. Learners in groups summarize literary works and present their analysis orally. Individuals write short essays reflecting on African values and lessons from texts.
Link to other subjects: History: Relate literary texts to African historical events and colonial experiences. Geography: Connect story settings to regions and environments in Africa. Psychology: Explore character motivations and behaviors. Language: Practice reading comprehension, vocabulary, idiomatic expressions, and writing skills.
Assessment criteria: Can identify literary genres, structure, characters, setting, themes, and language style. Summarize, analyze, and compare texts in writing and orally. Reflect on moral lessons and African values from literary texts.
Teaching and learning materials: Set texts (epics, folktales, proverbs, poetry) for reading and analysis. Charts or handmade storyboards for plot and character mapping. Recycled paper and markers for illustrating settings and events. Locally made materials for role-play, storytelling, and dramatization. ICT and AI for research and presentation

Topic Area: Literary Genres			Sub-Topic Area:
S4: Literature in English		Unit 5: Reading and writing for Children		Nº of Periods 21
Key unit competence: To analyse, interpret, and appreciate the themes, language, and style of children’s literature, and create stories that reflect one’s life and culture.
Learning objectives			Content	Learning activities
Knowledge and understanding	Skills	Attitudes and Values
Identify key elements of children’s literature Recognize common themes and messages in children’s literary works Distinguish between children’s literature and adult literature Identify genres of children’s literature: nursery rhymes, fantasy, fables, realistic fiction, and informational books	Summarize and interpret children’s stories and rhymes Analyze themes, messages, and stylistic features Apply cohesive devices in writing and storytelling Use direct and indirect speech in writing and oral exercises Produce short creative pieces inspired by	Appreciate children’s literature and its cultural context Respect others’ interpretations of stories Show creativity and originality in writing Reflect on moral lessons and values in children’s stories Demonstrate responsibility in completing tasks	Introduction to children’s literature: key elements, themes, differences from adult literature Genres of children’s literature: nursery rhymes, fantasy, fables, realistic fiction, informational books Language focus: cohesive devices Language focus: direct and indirect speech	Learners in groups read children’s stories and rhymes and discuss key elements and messages Learners in pairs compare children’s literature with adult literature Identify cohesive devices in stories and use them in short writing exercises Practice direct and indirect speech by rewriting lines from stories or rhymes Learners create short stories or rhymes reflecting personal or cultural experiences

Identify cohesive devices (first, then, next, after that, later, finally) Recognize direct and indirect speech in children's stories	children's literature Present ideas clearly in groups, pairs, and individually		Reading, interpreting, and writing short stories or rhymes	Present written or oral stories in groups and receive feedback Discuss the moral lessons and values conveyed in children's literature
Link to other subjects: Language: Practice reading comprehension, vocabulary, and narrative skills. Creative Arts: Express stories through role-play, dramatization, or illustrations. Psychology: Explore character emotions and motivations. History: Connect stories to cultural traditions and historical context.
Assessment criteria: Can identify key elements, themes, and genres of children's literature. Summarize, analyze, and interpret stories in writing and orally. Use cohesive devices and direct/indirect speech correctly. Can evaluate children's stories with focus to elements of children literature. Create original, culturally relevant stories or rhymes.
Teaching and learning materials: Selected children's stories and rhymes for reading and analysis. Recycled paper or poster paper for illustrations and story mapping. Handmade puppets or masks for role-play and dramatization. Markers, pencils, or locally available materials for creative writing and visual representation. ICT and AI for research and presentation.

Topic Area: Literary Genres			Sub-Topic Area: Poetry
S4: Literature in English		Unit 6: Key Aspects of Poetry		Nº of Periods 21
Key unit competence: To interpret poetry by applying knowledge of its types, elements, language, structure and stylistic devices to construct and communicate meaning.
Learning objectives			Content	Learning activities
Knowledge and understanding	Skills	Attitudes and Values
Identify meaning, function, and features of poetry Recognize the theme, message, language, style, structure, mood, tone, imagery, and symbolism in poems Identify types of poetry: lyric, narrative, dramatic, descriptive, and didactic Recognize sentence structures	Read aloud and interpret poems Analyze poems' title, theme, message, language, style, structure, and devices Compare and distinguish different types of poetry Identify imagery and symbolism in poems Apply knowledge of sentence	Appreciate poetry as a form of literary and cultural expression Respect others' interpretations and insights Reflect on emotions, themes, and moral lessons in poems Demonstrate responsibility and creativity in analyzing and presenting poetry	Reading and interpreting different poems Poetry analysis: theme, message, language, style, structure, mood, tone, imagery, symbolism Types of poetry: lyric, narrative, dramatic, descriptive, didactic Language focus: sentence structures in poetic texts	Learners in groups read poems aloud and discuss meaning and features Identify theme, message, and stylistic devices in poems Analyze mood, tone, imagery, and symbolism in selected poems Learners in pairs compare different types of poetry and their features Practice identifying simple, compound, and

in poetic language: simple, compound, and complex	structures to understand and write poetry Present interpretations orally and in writing			complex sentences in poems Learners write short poems using learned sentence structures Present interpretations orally in groups and receive peer feedback
Link to other subjects: Language: Language: Practice reading comprehension, vocabulary, and writing through poetry. Creative Arts / Drama: Express poems through performance or dramatization. Psychology: Explore emotions and human experiences in poetry. History: Understand cultural context and historical background of poems.
Assessment criteria: Identify and analyze poems' theme, message, language, style, structure, and device. Distinguish types of poetry and explain their features. Apply sentence structure knowledge in writing and interpreting poems. Present oral and written interpretations clearly. ICT and AI for research and presentation.
Teaching and learning materials: Selected poems for reading and analysis. Recycled paper or poster sheets for mapping themes, imagery, and symbolism. Locally made props for dramatization and performance of poems. Markers, pencils, and notebooks for notetaking and writing exercises. ICT and AI for research and presentation.

Topic Area: Literary Genres			Sub-Topic Area: Poetry
S4: Literature in English		Unit 7: Poetic Devices		Nº of Periods 21
Key unit competence: To analyse poetic devices by identifying their meanings and functions in poems to enhance interpretation and appreciation of poetry.
Learning objectives			Content	Learning activities
Knowledge and understanding	Skills	Attitudes and Values
Explain the meaning and the functions poetic devices and explain their functions in poems Identify sound devices: alliteration, assonance, consonance, onomatopoeia, rhyme, and rhythm. Identify imagery and figurative language: simile, metaphor, personification, hyperbole Recognize symbolism, metonymy,	Analyze poems to identify poetic devices Explain effect of each device in context of a given poem Compare and distinguish between different poetic devices Apply poetic devices in oral and written work	Appreciate creative language and literary expression Respect others' interpretations and insights Reflect on emotional and thematic effects of poetic devices Demonstrate responsibility and creativity in analysis and presentation	Introduction to poetic devices: meaning and functions Sound devices: alliteration, assonance, consonance, onomatopoeia, rhyme, rhythm Imagery and figurative language: simile, metaphor, personification, hyperbole Advanced poetic devices: symbolism,	Learners in groups read poems and identify poetic devices Analyze the meaning and function of sound devices in selected poems Learners in pairs identify imagery and figurative language in two different poems Discuss how symbolism, irony, and other advanced devices affect meaning and mood Rewrite lines from poems using different poetic devices

synecdoche, irony, paradox, oxymoron, and euphemism Discover how poetic devices enhance meaning, mood, and tone	Present interpretations of poems using learned devices		metonymy, synecdoche, irony, paradox, oxymoron, euphemism Language focus: applying poetic devices in sentences and poems	Present interpretations orally and in writing in groups Complete exercises and activities from the S4 Literature in English student book
Link to other subjects: Language: Practice reading comprehension, vocabulary, and figurative expression. Psychology: Explore emotions and human experiences expressed in poetic devices. History Culture: Understand cultural or historical references in poetry.
Assessment criteria: Identify poetic devices in different poems. Explain their meanings and functions clearly. Apply poetic devices in oral and written work. Present analysis and interpretations effectively
Teaching and learning material: Poems with varied poetic devices for reading and analysis. Recycled paper or poster sheets for mapping devices and effects. Locally made props or illustrations for dramatizing poems. Markers, pencils, and notebooks for exercises and presentations. ICT and AI for research and presentation.

Topic Area: Literary Genres			Sub-Topic Area: Drama
S4: Literature in English		Unit 8: Key Aspect of Drama		Nº of Periods 21
Key unit competence: To analyse drama through its structure, language, and elements, with reference to themes, characters, conflicts, and its value as a form of literary and cultural expression.
Learning objectives			Content	Learning activities
Knowledge and understanding	Skills	Attitudes and Values
Explain the meaning and functions of drama. Describe the structure of a play. Differentiate drama from other genres of literature. Identify main genres of drama: comedy, tragedy, tragicomedy, melodrama. Recognize the role of dialogue, monologue, soliloquy, asides,	Analyze dialogue, monologue, and stage directions to interpret character and plot. Compare features of different genres of drama. Interpret quantifiers and their effect on meaning in a play. Present findings orally or in writing on themes, conflicts, and character development.	Appreciate drama as a form of literary and cultural expression. Respect diverse cultural and social perspectives represented in plays. Value teamwork and collaboration during dramatization or group discussions. Show curiosity and openness	Meaning, purpose, and functions of drama. Structure of drama: acts, scenes, and dramatic techniques (dialogue, monologue, soliloquy, aside, suspense, dramatic irony, and stage directions.) Differences between drama and other literary genres. Main genres of drama: comedy, tragedy, tragicomedy, melodrama.	Learners read selected extracts from plays to identify and discuss drama elements. In groups, learners compare genres and highlight differences between drama and other literature. Learners Identify dialogue, monologue, soliloquy, and stage directions in a text. Learners analyze conflicts in selected scenes and discuss their effect on suspense, and dramatic irony. Outline types of conflict and stages of conflict development in a play. Discuss how conflict contributes to characterization and theme development.	Perform short dramatic scenes demonstrating dialogue, conflict, or stage directions. Evaluate how conflict develops and shapes themes in drama.	toward understanding conflicts and moral lessons in drama. Demonstrate honesty, fairness, and empathy when analyzing characters and themes.	Structural Elements of drama: Plot, setting and characters, theme, tone, mood and language Conflict in drama: meaning, types, stages, and purpose. Use of language, including quantifiers, in plays. Themes, characters, and moral lessons in selected plays.	character and theme. Learners dramatize selected scenes to demonstrate suspense, irony, and dialogue. Learners summarize themes and moral lessons in oral or written form.

--	---	---	---	---

Link to other subjects: History: Understand historical and cultural contexts reflected in drama. Language: Enhance vocabulary, sentence structure, and oral communication skills. Arts: Develop creative expression through dramatization, performance, and visual aids. Psychology: Examine character motivations, emotions, and interpersonal relationships.

Assessment criteria: Can identify the elements of drama, including structure, dialogue, and stage directions. Analyze how conflicts and character interactions reveal themes and morals. Demonstrate understanding through dramatization, discussion, or written summaries. Evaluate the effect of genre, language, and dramatic devices on the play's meaning.

Teaching and learning material: Teaching and Learning Materials. Selected African or world plays. Handouts with guided questions on dialogue, conflict, and genre. Locally made chart papers or cardboard for dramatization and group activities. Locally available markers, pens, and sticks for props or visual aids. ICT and AI for research and presentation.

Topic Area: Literary Genres			Sub-Topic Area: Drama
S4: Literature in English		Unit 9: Cultural Identity in African Drama		Nº of Periods 21
Key unit competence: To analyse African plays by examining how characters, plot, setting, dialogue, and themes reflect African cultural identity while also appreciating the moral and social lessons conveyed through oral and written expression.
Learning Objectives			Content	Learning activities
Knowledge and understanding	Skills	Attitudes and Values
Explain the meaning of cultural identity in African drama. Identify key elements of African drama such as plot, setting, and characters. Describe how dialogue, proverbs, and storytelling reflect African values and beliefs. Discuss how traditions, customs, and social norms	Analyze how characters, plot, and dialogue reveal aspects of cultural identity. Interpret figurative language, idioms, and proverbs to uncover deeper meanings. Compare how different playwrights represent African traditions and modern influences.	Appreciate the richness and diversity of African culture. Respect other people’s traditions, customs, and social values. Value teamwork and cooperation during group discussions and performances. Show openness to new cultural perspectives	Meaning and features of African drama Elements of a play (characters, plot, setting, conflict) The role of dialogue in revealing character and advancing the plot in African Drama Analysis of themes and messages in African drama The playwright’s purpose: to educate,	Learners read African plays individually, in pairs, or with a peer tutor, using audio, large print, or visual aids if needed, to identify cultural elements in the drama. In groups, learners discuss dialogue, events, and character actions in African plays, with support for those who need help expressing ideas. Learners interpret proverbs, idioms, and shape the lives of characters. Outline types of conflict related to culture, such as tradition versus change or generational gaps. Illustrate major themes like justice, unity, respect, and family in African plays. Summarize moral and ethical lessons derived from selected plays.	Evaluate the impact of social norms on character development and plot outcomes. Present well-reasoned oral or written analyses of themes and moral lessons. Perform or dramatize scenes that demonstrate cultural beliefs or conflicts. Compose reflective writings linking lessons from plays to real-life cultural experiences.	and constructive dialogue. Demonstrate honesty, empathy, and fairness when interpreting cultural messages. Promote harmony, respect, and social responsibility through literary study.	entertain, give moral instruction, or offer social critique in African drama Common themes in African drama: love, betrayal, tradition versus change, justice, unity, and reconciliation Character portrayal and motivation in African plays Relationship between conflict and resolution in drama Cultural and social values reflected in African plays The impact of African drama on promoting harmony, moral values, and social awareness	figurative language in African plays, using oral, written, or visual prompts. Learners dramatize short scenes from African plays in groups or pairs, using acting, narration, or storyboards, ensuring all learners participate. Learners share reflections on African plays orally, in writing, visually, or through assisted communication. Learners write short analytical paragraphs individually, linking themes and messages from African plays to modern society, using scaffolds if needed.

--	---	---	---	---

Link to other subjects: History: connect dramatic events to historical and cultural contexts Language: Develop reading, writing, and comprehension skills through analysis and summaries. Psychology: Explore character motivations and social behavior. Creative Arts: Perform scenes to illustrate cultural identity and conflicts.

Assessment criteria: Identify the key elements of African drama, including characters, plot, setting, and dialogue. Analyze how characters, plot, setting, and dialogue reveal cultural identity in the play. Evaluate the themes, moral lessons, and social values communicated through the play. Demonstrate understanding of cultural messages through discussion, writing, or dramatization.

Teaching and learning material: Set books and selected African plays highlighting cultural identity. Handouts with guided questions on cultural practices and proverbs. Locally made charts or cardboard for dramatizing cultural scenes. ICT and AI for research and presentation.

Topic Area: Literary Genres			Sub-Topic Area: Prose
S4: Literature in English		Unit 10: Creative Writing: Prose		Nº of Periods 28
Key unit competence: To create literary texts by producing and analyzing prose narratives and drama, including structure, language, characters, dialogue, conflict, themes, and cultural elements, and to present and evaluate them effectively through oral and written expression.
Learning objectives			Content	Learning activities
Knowledge and understanding	Skills	Attitudes and Values
Explain main genres of prose: fiction and non-fiction. Describe key literary elements in prose : plot, characters, setting, conflict, theme. Recognize narrative techniques: Dialogue, Monologue, Figurative language, Idiomatic expressions, Narrative voice, Tone, Symbolism,	Analyze prose extracts to identify genres, literary elements, and techniques. Organize sentences and paragraphs coherently in narratives. Apply dialogue, figurative language, symbolism, imagery, narrative voice, and stage directions in original writing and presentation.	Appreciate creativity and originality in storytelling. Demonstrate responsibility, diligence, and discipline during writing, presentation, and revision. Show respect and openness when providing or receiving feedback.	Sample prose extracts for reading and learning Review of the main genres: fiction and non-fiction Review of the literary elements: plot, characters, setting, conflict, theme. review narrative techniques: Dialogue, Monologue, Figurative language, Idiomatic	Learners read prose extracts individually or in pairs, with large print or audio options if needed. Learners re-discuss literary elements with focus to narrative techniques in small groups, supporting peers with different abilities. Learners write short stories individually, using assistive tools where necessary (speech-to-text, graphic organizers, storyboards).

Flashback, Foreshadowing, Imagery, Characterization, Conflict development. Identify language conventions: tenses (past, present, past perfect, past perfect continuous), direct and indirect speech, punctuation, sentence and paragraph structure. Outline cultural aspects in literature traditions, customs, rites of passage, social norms, and values.	Interpret conflicts and cultural identity in drama. Produce original prose narratives individually, incorporating learned literary techniques and themes. Revise and refine prose presentations for clarity, coherence, and language accuracy. Evaluate peer and personal narratives presentation to check content, structure, and literary quality.	Value cultural, social, and environmental lessons embedded in narratives Exhibit perseverance and resilience in producing and improving prose text.	expressions, Narrative voice, Tone, Symbolism, Flashback, Foreshadowing, Imagery, Characterisation, Conflict development. Organize sentences and paragraphs effectively. Editing of Fictional prose text original short stories. Explore themes: love, integrity, unity, reconciliation, child protection, modernity vs. tradition, environment, climate change, homegrown solutions, wisdom vs.	Learners present stories orally, visually, or using recorded formats, encouraging participation according to each learner's strength. Learners receive feedback from peers and teacher, with adapted formats for those needing additional support. Learners reflect individually on progress and set personal goals.
--	--	---	--	---

			strength, adventure, perseverance, conflict resolution, hardship versus. resilience, social protection. Language focus: Superlative and Comparative Link to other subjects: Language lessons: reinforce tenses, punctuation, direct/indirect speech. History: explore modernity vs. tradition and community values
Assessment criteria: Can identify literary elements and narrative techniques. Construct coherent, creative short stories. Present narratives orally with clarity and expression. Revise written and oral work effectively using feedback. Evaluate peer and personal narratives critically.
Teaching and learning material: Locally made storytelling charts, visual aids, and props. Handouts with story templates and guided questions. Pens, markers, and assistive tools for individual or group work. Audio-visual aids (optional) for presentations. Large print or audio versions for learners with visual or reading challenges. ICT and AI for research and presentation.

SENIOR FIVE

Topic Area: Literary genres			Sub-Topic Area: Prose
S5: Literature in English		Unit 1: European Literary Traditions One		Nº of Periods 28
Key unit competence: To analyse key literary works and themes in European literature in relation to their historical, cultural, and philosophical contexts across different genres and periods.
Learning objectives			Content	Learning activities
Knowledge and understanding	Skills	Attitudes and Values
Identify major European authors, texts, and literary movements from classical to modern periods. Explain the historical, cultural, and philosophical foundations of European prose traditions. Recognize main European literary genres such as epic, allegory, satire, and the novel.	Analyze European prose texts to identify themes, symbols, and narrative techniques. Interpret moral, social, and philosophical ideas represented in European literary works. Compare and contrast classical	Appreciation for the richness and diversity of European literary heritage Respect for cultural and historical perspectives expressed in European literature. Demonstrate open-mindedness toward differing worldviews within European traditions.	Introduction to European Literature. Meaning and features of European literature through their European literary Periods: Classical, Medieval, Renaissance, Enlightenment and modernism. Analysis of major European literary periods: Classical Ancient Greek and Roman Literature Medieval,	Learners in groups discuss European literary periods and key authors from Classical to Modern literature. Learners individually read literary extracts and identify genres, themes, moral ideas, and literary features. Learners in pairs discuss texts focusing on social, cultural, and ethical issues. Learners in groups create a timeline showing European literary movements and their historical influences. Learners in groups dramatize or retell selected literary episodes to Describe how European literature reflects societal changes, belief systems, and artistic values.	and modern European prose in terms of style and purpose. Develop reasoned oral and written interpretations of European texts supported by evidence. Relate European literary ideas to broader global and African contexts.	Confidence and curiosity in exploring literature as a reflection of European society. Commitment to critical, creative, and ethical engagement with literary texts.	Renaissance, Enlightenment and Modernism through set literary works Prominent European literary tradition authors and their works Language Focus: Gerund and infinitive	demonstrate themes and meaning. Learners individually compare literary texts from different European periods through short written tasks. Learners in groups prepare and participate in debates on themes and ideas presented in European literature. Learners in groups research and present literary movements, authors, themes, and their influence. Learners individually write reflections on human experiences, values, and dilemmas presented in literary texts. Learners in groups create projects showing how European literary movements address social and moral issues.

--	---	---	--	---

Link to other subjects

History: Ancient Greece, the Roman Empire, and Medieval Europe provide historical settings and political backgrounds for European literary movements. Religious Studies: Christian theology and classical mythology influence the moral, symbolic, and spiritual aspects of European literature. Psychology: Understanding human behaviour, motivation, and emotion helps interpret the actions and inner conflicts of characters in European prose. English: Reinforces grammar, vocabulary, and stylistic analysis skills used in interpreting and discussing European literary texts.

Assessment criteria: Can demonstrate understanding of literary texts and their contexts. Effectively analyzes and interprets themes and techniques. Engages in thoughtful discussion and collaboration. Produces clear, well-structured written and creative work.

Teaching and learning materials: Anthologies of classical and medieval European literature. Historical and cultural background readings. Audio recordings or dramatizations of key texts. Maps, timelines, artwork. Access to digital humanities tools (e.g., online archives, interactive texts). AI for research and presentation.

Topic Area: Literary Genres			Sub-Topic Area: Prose
S 5 Literature in English		Unit 2: Understanding Prose		Periods: 28
Key unit Competence: To be able to analyse prose texts critically by identifying narrative elements, literary techniques, and themes, evaluate how structure, style, and modal verbs affect meaning.
Learning objectives			Content	Learning activities
Knowledge and understanding	Skills	Attitudes and Values
Explain prose and distinguish it from poetry and drama. List the types of prose: short stories, novels, fables, folktales, expository, and persuasive texts. Describe the functions of narrative elements: plot, character, setting, and theme.	Analyze prose texts to identify narrative elements, literary devices, and stylistic features. Interpret the meaning of plot, character, setting, theme, and authorial choicesCompare and contrast different prose genres, styles, and cultural contexts.	Appreciate prose as a reflection of human experience and cultural heritage. Develop empathy and respect for diverse perspectives and cultures. Demonstrate critical thinking and open-mindedness	Meaning and Characteristics of Prose: literary vs. non-literary prose, features, differences from poetry and drama. Narrative Elements: plot (linear, circular, flashback), character (types and development), setting (time, place, context), theme (explicit and implicit). Literary Devices & Narrative Techniques: dialogue, narrative	Learners in groups or pairs read and discuss prose texts focusing on vocabulary, plot, and character motivations. Learners individually and in groups read aloud selected passages to explore tone, diction, and narrative voice. Learners in groups analyze literary devices, narrative techniques, and character actions in texts. Learners in pairs compare and contrast different prose genres, styles, and cultural contexts through discussion.

Identify literary devices such as dialogue, flashback, foreshadowing, narrative voice, diction, symbolism, and irony. Explain the uses of modal verbs (shall, will, would, have to, must) in writing and speech. Recognize how prose reflects human experiences, social values, culture, and historical context.	Summarize and paraphrase prose passages accurately. Evaluate character actions, ethical dilemmas, and thematic messages. Apply modal verbs appropriately in discussion and writing. Express personal and critical responses using textual evidence.	when exploring themes such as justice, identity, and morality. Value ethical reflection on character decisions and societal dilemmas. Find joy in analyzing, interpreting, and creating narratives.	voice, point of view, flashback, foreshadowing, diction, symbolism, irony, motif, interior monologue. Language Focus: modal verbs (shall, will, would, have to, must) diction, syntax, style. Critical and Ethical Reflection: moral and social themes, identity, justice, cultural context, cross-cultural comparisons.	Learners in groups prepare and participate in debates on ethical dilemmas, character decisions, and thematic interpretations. Learners individually compose short stories inspired by studied themes and narrative styles. Learners individually write reflections on how prose relates to contemporary issues and personal experiences. Learners individually and in pairs apply modal verbs to express tone, probability, and obligation in speaking and writing activities.
--	--	--	--	--

Link to other subjects:

English language History: understanding historical settings and events in literature.

Kinyarwanda and French: comparative literature

Assessment criteria: Can analyze and interpret prose texts by explaining how plot, character, setting, theme, and literary devices contribute to meaning using textual evidence. Evaluate character actions, ethical dilemmas, and thematic messages within social, cultural, and moral contexts while comparing different prose genres and styles. Create and communicate informed personal responses or original narratives using appropriate language features, modal verbs, and literary techniques.

Teaching and learning materials: Worksheets and handouts for literary analysis Audio-visual resources: films, recordings, and online readings Digital tools: projectors, e-books, and educational platforms. ICT and AI for research and presentation

Topic Area: Literary Genres			Sub-Topic Area: Prose
S5: Literature in English		Unit3: Themes and Message in African Novels		Nº of Periods 28
Key unit competence: To be able to analyze Themes and messages in African novels and evaluate how they reflect historical, economic, social, and cultural contexts.
Learning objectives			Content	Learning activities
Knowledge and understanding	Skills	Attitudes and Values
Identify major and minor themes and messages in African novels. Explain historical, social, economic, and cultural factors influencing African fiction. Describe how African writers address issues like colonialism, independence, corruption, gender, and resilience.	Analyze and interpret passages to identify underlying themes. Evaluate how literary elements reflect historical, economic, social, and cultural contexts. Compare how different authors treat similar themes. Discuss and justify personal	Appreciate African literature as a reflection of social, historical, and cultural identity and experiences. Respect diverse perspectives and experiences in African societies. Show empathy toward characters and communities facing social challenges.	Historical Themes Colonialism and resistance. Struggles for independence and national identity. Economic Theme Poverty and exploitation. Urban migration and economic hardship. Cultural Themes Role of customs and heritage. Clash between tradition and	Learners, individually, read passages from African novels and identify themes (Historical, economic, Cultural, Social Themes). Learners in pairs compare characters' actions in African novels and practice active/passive voice . Learners in groups analyze a theme in African novels and present findings. Learners as a whole class debate thematic questions based on African novels. Learners, individually or in groups, research societal

Recognize techniques used by authors to convey themes and messages. Explain how literature mirrors moral, political, and cultural realities in African societies.	interpretations using textual evidence. Write analytical essays on themes and authorial techniques. Use both active and passive voice effectively in writing to vary sentence structure and emphasize different aspects of events or actions.	Value moral integrity, justice, and resilience as reflected in literature. Promote gender equality and cultural pride in literary discussions.	modernity. Social Themes Family and kinship structures. Social inequality and migration challenges. Language Focus Active and passive voice in writing and oral communication.	challenges depicted in African novels and report. Learners, individually, identify and rewrite active/passive voice sentences from African novels. Learners, individually or in pairs, give oral presentations on a theme in African novels.
Link to other subjects: English: Enhancing grammar use (active and passive voice) and vocabulary from African novels. History: Understanding colonial and postcolonial contexts. Geography: Identifying African settings and environments.
Assessment criteria: Can identify main and minor themes in African novels. Correct use of active and passive voice in sentences. Clear connection of themes to Africa's historical, social, economic, and cultural contexts. Effectively participation in individual, pair, and group tasks. Correctly use of active and passive voice in spoken and written tasks
Teaching and learning material: Texts or excerpts from African set novels. Maps of Africa. Charts showing examples of active and passive voice. Dictionaries and grammar guides. Audio or visual materials on African culture and history. ICT and AI for research and presentation.

Topic Area: Literary Genres			Sub-Topic Area: Drama
S5: Literature in English		Unit 4: European Drama		Nº of Periods 21
Key unit competence: To analyze connections between European dramas across historical periods regarding their themes, showing different times and cultures.
Learning objectives			Content	Learning activities
Knowledge and understanding	Skills	Attitudes and Values
Explain the historical development of European drama. Describe major characteristics including symbolism, allegory, human conflict, and emotion. Identify recurring themes such as morality, love, power, and identity. Distinguish between Medieval, Renaissance, and Modern periods.	Analyze characters, plot, dialogue, and dramatic techniques in European drama extracts. Compare themes and ideas across historical periods. Evaluate cultural, religious, and philosophical influences on European drama. Interpret symbolic and allegorical elements.	Appreciate European drama as a reflection of human experience and cultural diversity. Respect historical, cultural, and artistic perspectives. Value moral, philosophical, and social lessons in drama.	A History of European Drama Drama started in ancient Greece and Rome. It evolved through Medieval, Renaissance, and Modern periods. Main Characteristics of European Drama Drama shows human conflict and emotion. It uses symbolism, allegory, and reflects social change.	Learners read and discuss extracts from European drama to identify themes and styles. Learners brainstorm and present ideas on how European drama reflects society and human emotions. Learners compare features of European drama from Medieval, Renaissance, and Modern periods in groups.

Recognize stylistic and structural innovations like plot, dialogue, characterization, and stagecraft. Summarize how European drama reflects social, philosophical, and religious contexts.	Summarize main ideas accurately. Present findings orally or in writing. Identify and use infinitives correctly. Identify and use gerunds correctly.	Demonstrate interest and curiosity in reading and interpreting European drama	Analysis of European Drama Focus on characters, plot, and dialogue. Examine style, structure, and dramatic techniques Using Gerund and Infinitive in communication	Learners analyze characters, dialogue, and symbolism in European drama excerpts. Learners to link European drama to world literature and cultural contexts Learners use Infinitive and gerunds to express themselves in written and Oral Communication
Link to other subjects: History: Understand social and cultural context of European drama. English Language: Improve reading, analysis, and writing skills.
Assessment criteria: Explains development and characteristics of European drama. Identifies and compares themes across periods. Analyzes characters, structure, and language. Shows appreciation of cultural and artistic diversity.
Teaching and learning material: Locally made materials such as charts of dramatic periods, comparison posters. extracts from European drama, reference notes. ICT and AI for research and presentation.

Topic Area: Literary Genres			Sub-Topic Area: Drama
S5: Literature in English		Unit 5: Language in European Drama		Nº of Periods 21
Key unit competence: To evaluate language in European drama to understand character development, dramatic tension, and theme, while appreciating cultural, social, and moral values expressed through dialogue.
Learning objectives			Content	Learning activities
Knowledge and understanding	Skills	Attitudes and Values
Explain the role of language in European drama. Describe dialogue, monologue, soliloquy, and stage directions in European drama. Identify stylistic devices such as symbolism, metaphor, and irony in European drama.	Evaluate characters and dramatic tension through language in European drama. Interpret themes and messages using European drama extracts. Perform short European drama scenes demonstrating	Appreciate cultural and social nuances expressed through dialogue in European drama. Value ethical, moral, and historical insights communicated in European drama. Demonstrate respect for playwrights' choices	Language and Dialogue in European Drama Dialogue, monologue, soliloquy, and stage directions in European drama. Figurative and symbolic language: metaphor, irony, symbolism in European drama. Interpretation and Context in European Drama Language in European drama reflects cultural, historical, and social settings. Conflict, emotion, and tension conveyed through speech, silence, and expression in European drama. Analyzing Theme Development in European Drama Identify main themes in European	Read and annotate European drama extracts. Discuss in pairs or groups meaning, style, and context in European drama. Perform European drama dialogues or soliloquies to explore character and tension. Identify and interpret figurative and symbolic language in European drama.

Recognize how European drama language reflects cultural and historical context	understanding of language and character.	and critical thinking in analyzing European drama language.	drama: power, identity, love, justice, freedom and how they are enhanced through language use. Cultural Identity in European Drama Language in European drama reflects cultural identity and social perspectives. Explore moral and ethical lessons through dialogue in European drama. Language Focus: Idiomatic Expressions in European Drama Recognize and interpret idioms in European drama context. Practice integrating idiomatic expressions in European drama performance	Compare themes and language use across European drama plays. Present theme, character, and language findings orally or visually.
Link to other subjects: History: Explore historical and cultural context of European drama.
English Language: Develop comprehension, analysis, and performance skills through European drama.
Social Studies: Understand social, moral, and cultural messages conveyed through European drama dialogue.
Assessment criteria: Explains the role of language in European drama. Identifies and interprets dialogue, monologue, and stylistic devices in European drama. Evaluates character development and dramatic tension in European drama. Recognizes and explains themes and messages conveyed through language in European drama. Performs short European drama scenes demonstrating understanding of language and characterization.
Teaching and learning material: Charts for character, dialogue, and theme mapping in European drama.
Digital resources: Video/audio performances of European drama. ICT and AI for research and presentation.

Topic Area: Literary Genres			Sub-Topic Area: Drama
S5: Literature in English		Unit 6: Radio and Television Drama		Nº of Periods 28
Key unit competence: To analyze radio and television dramas, demonstrating understanding of their features, themes, messages, and social functions through performance.
Learning objectives			Content	Learning activities
Knowledge and understanding	Skills	Attitudes and Values
Explain the meaning and functions of radio and television drama. Describe the features and types of radio and TV drama. Identify stylistic devices used in radio and TV drama. Distinguish differences and similarities between radio and TV drama.	Analyze radio and TV drama scripts and performances. Compare themes, messages, and styles in radio and TV drama. Perform short radio or television drama scenes. Interpret how language and setting affect meaning in media drama.	Appreciate radio and television drama as important cultural and artistic form of expressions. Demonstrate creativity and teamwork in performing drama Respect different perspectives presented in media drama.	Introduction to Radio Drama Meaning and societal functions. Features and types. Analyzing scripts and performances. Introduction to Television Drama Meaning and societal role. Features and types. Analyzing scripts, performances, and stylistic devices. Compare and Contrast Radio and TV Drama Similarities and differences in format, language, and performance.	Learners listen to radio drama extracts and discuss themes, messages, and features. Learners watch TV drama clips and analyze language, style, and characterization. Learners compare radio and TV drama in groups using context-specific terms. Learners perform short scenes in pairs or groups for radio and TV.

		Value the role of media in educating and informing society.	Themes and Messages in Radio and Television Drama Identify main themes and messages. Explore social, cultural, or moral issues reflected in media drama. Performing Radio and Television Drama Practice performing short scenes for radio and TV. Focus on voice, expression, and body language. Language Focus Language in different settings and how it conveys meaning.	Teacher guides learners to identify stylistic devices and social messages. Learners brainstorm and present ideas on how media drama educates and informs society.
Link to other subjects: History: Understand cultural and historical context of dramas. English Language: Develop comprehension, analysis, and performance skills. Creative Arts: Enhance creativity, expression, and performance techniques. Social Studies: Explore social issues and messages conveyed in media drama.
Assessment criteria: Explains meaning, features, and functions of radio and TV drama. Identifies and analyzes themes, messages, and stylistic devices. Compares radio and TV drama effectively. Performs a short drama scene demonstrating understanding of performance techniques.
Teaching and learning material: Radio scripts, TV drama transcripts. Locally made materials: charts comparing features of radio and TV drama. Radio and TV recordings or smart phones, short online drama clips. ICT and AI for research and presentation.

Topic Area: Literary Genres			Sub-Topic Area: Poetry
S5: Literature in English		Unit 7: Forms of Poetry		Nº of Periods 35
Key unit competence: To be able to analyze different forms of poetry by examining meaning, structure, rhyme, rhythm, syllable patterns, and themes while appreciating creativity and developing positive attitudes toward literary expression.
Learning objectives			Content	Learning activities
Knowledge and understanding	Skills	Attitudes and Values
Identify the meaning and structure of short structured poems (limerick, haiku, tanka) including rhyme and syllable patterns. Explain the meaning and features of epigram and concrete poetry.	Analyze rhyme, rhythm, syllable patterns, and structural features in limericks, haikus, and tankas; compose poems using these forms. Interpret meaning, visual arrangement, and structural features in epigrams, concrete poems, and acrostic poems; create poems using these forms. Analyze narrative, reflective, and	Appreciate creativity, humor, and simplicity in poetry. Value brevity, wit, and artistic expression. Appreciate storytelling, admiration, and classical forms. Value freedom of expression and creativity. Develop confidence and respect for peers’ ideas.	Limericks: Structure, Rhyme, Rhythm, and Themes Haiku: Syllable Patterns, Imagery, and Meaning Tanka: Emotional Expression and Syllable Structure Epigrams: Wit, Irony, and Thought-provoking Ideas Concrete Poetry: Visual Arrangement and Meaning Acrostic Poetry: Structure and Creative Expression	In pairs, learners read and analyze limericks, haikus, and tankas by identifying their structures, counting syllables, and examining rhyme schemes and rhythm patterns. Individually, learners compose and present a limerick, haiku, or tanka following the correct structure and pattern. In groups, learners read and discuss epigrams, concrete poems, and acrostic

Explain free verse characteristics; recognize flexible structure. Examine stylistic and grammatical variations and their effects on meaning.	expressive features in ballads, odes, and sonnets; compose poems using these forms. Express ideas, emotions, and experiences creatively through free verse poetry. Write, recite, and perform poems using appropriate rhythm, expression, and stylistic choices.	Short structured poems: limerick (5 lines), haiku (3 lines, 5-7-5), tanka (5 lines, 5-7-5-7-7); rhymes, rhythm, syllables, themes/ messages.	Ballads: Narrative Structure, Rhythm, and Themes. Odes: Praise, Reflection, and Emotional Expression Sonnets: Structure, Rhyme Patterns, and Themes Free Verse: Flexible Structure and Creative Expression Language Focus in Poetry: Grammatical Deviations, Stylistic Choices, and Poetic Licence	poems and identify their structural and visual features. Individually, learners compose an epigram, design a concrete poem, or create an acrostic poem based on a selected word or theme. In pairs, learners read ballads, odes, and sonnets and identify their structures, rhyme patterns, themes, and stylistic features. Individually, learners write a short ballad, compose an ode, or create sonnet lines using an appropriate structure. Individually, learners read free verse poems and identify themes, imagery, and poetic expressions. In pairs, learners discuss interpretations and provide feedback on free verse poems.
--	---	---	--	---

				Individually, learners compose and present a free verse poem on a selected topic. In groups, learners discuss grammatical and stylistic deviations in poetry and explain their effects on meaning. Individually, learners compose, recite, and perform poems using appropriate rhythm, expression, and stylistic choices.
Link to other subjects: This unit connects to English through word stress, rhythm, and pronunciation in poetry. It links to History by helping learners understand the cultural and historical context of poems, for example, war poetry and civil rights poetry
Assessment criteria: Learners can analyse rhyme, rhythm, syllable patterns, structure, and themes in different forms of poetry. Learners can interpret meaning and visual elements using evidence from poems and demonstrate creativity in composing limericks, haikus, tankas, epigrams, concrete poems, acrostic poems, ballads, odes, sonnets, and free verse poems. Learners can apply appropriate stylistic choices, express ideas clearly in oral and written forms, perform poems effectively, and participate actively and respectfully in pair and group activities.
Teaching and learning material: Printed copies of set anthologies of poems. Audio recordings of poems (optional) Poetry anthologies or textbooks, Visual aids (e.g., theme posters, literary device charts). ICT and AI for research and presentation.

S5: Literature in English		Unit 8: Theme and Messages in Poetry		Nº of Periods 21
Key unit competence: To interpret themes and messages in poetry and apply them to real-life situations in order to develop personal understanding and values.
Learning objectives			Content	Learning activities
Knowledge and understanding	Skills	Attitudes and Values
Identify common themes in poetry (e.g., love, nature, death, identity, time). Recognizing central themes such as love, nature, identity, time, and mortality Explain how poets convey messages through imagery, tone, structure, and language.	Interpret the poet’s message through imagery, tone, structure, and language. Explore how poets convey messages through imagery, tone, structure, and language. Connect poetic themes to historical, cultural, and personal contexts. Compare how different poets express similar themes across styles and periods. Express personal and critical responses to poetry through discussion and writing.	Appreciate the emotional and intellectual depth of poetry. Respect diverse perspectives and cultural expressions in poetic works. Develop empathy through engagement with human experiences in poetry. Celebrate the power of language to	Meaning of theme and message in poetry Type of Themes: Common poetic themes and their significance Language and style Reading and Interpreting a Poem Contextual analysis of a poem (historical, cultural, philosophical)	Individually, learners explore the meaning of theme and message and brainstorm examples from poems they already know. In pairs, learners read selected poems and identify themes, messages, language use, and stylistic features used by poets. In groups, learners discuss common poetic themes and explain their significance in different poems. In pairs, learners read and interpret selected

List the historical and cultural context of selected poems. Identify rhythmic patterns (e.g., iambic pentameter).	Analyze poetic devices (metaphor, simile, symbolism, personification, etc.) and explain their role in expressing themes. Interpret and compare messages across different poems and poets. Express personal responses to poetry through discussion and writing. Explore how stress changes meaning in words and expressions. Example: REcord (noun) versus reCORD (verb).	evoke emotion and provoke thought. Honor the vulnerability and courage of poetic self-expression.	Contextual analysis (historical, cultural, philosophical)	poems by identifying the speaker, tone, mood, themes, and messages. In groups, learners analyze poems in relation to their historical, cultural, and philosophical contexts and explain how context influences meaning. In pairs, learners compare two poems with similar themes but different messages and present their findings. Individually, learners compose a short poem based on a theme of their choice and apply appropriate language and stylistic features. In groups, learners display written poems around the classroom, rotate, annotate, and discuss themes and messages presented in the poems. Individually, learners reflect on how a poem's message connects with their own experiences or society and share their ideas. In pairs, learners recite and perform short poems using appropriate stress, rhythm, tone, and expression to emphasize themes and emotional shifts.
---	---	---	--	---

--	--	--	--	---

Link to other subjects: English Word stress. History: Understanding the historical context of poems (e.g., war poetry, civil rights poetry).

Assessment criteria: Learners can identify and interpret themes, messages, and contextual influences in poems using relevant textual evidence.

Learners can analyze imagery, tone, language, structure, and poetic devices and explain their contribution to meaning in poetry.

Learners can express personal and critical responses clearly in oral and written forms and participate actively and respectfully in pair and group activities.

Teaching and learning material: Printed copies of set anthologies of poems. Audio recordings of poems (optional) Poetry anthologies or textbooks, Visual aids (e.g., theme posters, literary device charts). ICT and AI for research and presentation.

Topic Area: Literary Genres			Sub-Topic Area: Poetry
S5: Literature in English		Unit 9: Creative Writing: Poetry		Nº of Periods 21
Key unit competence: To create original poems by using appropriate poetic devices, structure, and style to express personal and social themes and appreciate diverse voices and perspectives.
Learning objectives			Content	Learning activities
Knowledge and understanding	Skills	Attitudes and Values
Identify poetic devices and explain how they contribute to meaning and emotion Analyze the effects of imagery, rhythm, and tone in selected poems Explain how structure, tone, and diction shape a poem’s message.	Write original poems that reflect personal feelings, experiences, or social concerns Experiment with rhyme, rhythm, and tone to strengthen meaning and expression Revise and polish original poems for coherence, creativity, and emotional effect.	Appreciate poetry as a creative form of personal and cultural expression Show confidence, discipline, and enthusiasm when writing and performing poems Respect peers’ creative efforts and provide constructive feedback Promote inclusiveness and encourage	Review of the basic Literary devices: simile, metaphor, personification, imagery, and sound patterns Review of forms of Poetry structure: stanza arrangement, rhyme scheme, rhythm, tone, and mood Themes and messages: emotional, moral, and social ideas expressed in poetry	Work in pairs to identify poetic devices in selected examples of poems Discuss in groups how tone and rhythm influence meaning and mood Analyze themes and messages in short poems and connect them to daily life Individually brainstorm ideas to compose original poems on selected themes.

SENIOR SIX

Interpret common poetic themes such as love, nature, heroism, and social issue	Present and perform poems confidently with clear expression and rhythm	participation from all learners	Stages of poem composition: idea generation, drafting, revising, and performing Language focus: Adverbs of Time Presentation and performance/ recitation of original poems written	Exchange poems in peer review sessions to refine tone, rhythm, and imagery Organize inclusive poetry presentations to showcase learners' creativity Display completed poems on classroom walls or compile them into an anthology for school or community exhibition
Link to other subjects: English Language: Vocabulary development and stylistic techniques. Music: Understanding rhythm, tone, and sound in oral performance. Social Studies: Addressing social and cultural themes through poetry.
Assessment criteria: Identify and explain poetic devices, structure, and themes in selected poems. Compose original poems that express personal or social themes creatively. Demonstrate correct use of rhythm, tone, and imagery in written and oral presentation. Revise and improve poems through peer and teacher feedback. Present poems confidently in an inclusive classroom environment
Teaching and learning material: Samples of poems from local and international poets. Chart papers, markers, and writing journals. Audio or video recordings of poetry performances. Dictionaries, thesauruses, and digital writing tools. ICT and AI for research and presentation.

Topic Area: Literary Genres			Sub-Topic Area: Prose
S6: Literature in English		Unit 1: European Literary Traditions Two		Nº of Periods 35
Key unit competence: To analyze texts according to their social, historical, and political contexts in European literary traditions.
Learning objectives			Content	Learning activities
Knowledge and understanding	Skills	Attitudes and Values
Explain the meaning, features, and significance of major European literary movements. Identify key authors and representative works from each literary period. Describe how social, historical, and political contexts influenced	Analyze literary texts critically within their cultural and historical contexts. Compare and contrast features of different European literary movements. Interpret selected	Appreciate the diversity and richness of European literary heritage. Develop critical thinking and open-mindedness towards various literary perspectives. Value literature as a reflection of human experience, society, and culture.	European Literary Movements: Romanticism Meaning of Romanticism Characteristics of Romanticism Prominent Romantic authors and their major works Realism Meaning of Realism Characteristics of Realism Prominent Realist authors and their major works Modernism Meaning of Modernism Characteristics of Modernism Prominent Modernist authors and their works	Reading and discussing extracts from Literature in English S6 Student's Book and other reference texts. Group discussions on characteristics and significance of each movement. Comparative analysis of Romantic, Realist, Modernist, and Postmodernist works. Individual written assignments on how social and political

European literature. Demonstrate understanding of literary evolution from Romanticism to Postmodernism.	extracts using appropriate literary terminology. Communicate literary analysis effectively in both oral and written forms.	Demonstrate integrity, collaboration, and respect for different viewpoints in literary discussions.	Postmodernism Meaning of Postmodernism Characteristics of Postmodernism Prominent Postmodern authors and their works Language Focus1: Clauses • Main clause • Subordinating clause (noun clause, adjectival clause and adverbial clause) Language Focus 2: Direct and indirect speech	contexts shaped literary expression. Class presentations on selected authors and their contributions. Grammar exercises focusing on clauses and reported speech. End-unit test to assess comprehension, analysis, and language skills.
Link to other subjects: History: Understanding historical contexts of European movements. English Language: Grammar, stylistic analysis, and essay writing skills. Civic Education: Exploring social and moral values through literature. Philosophy: Understanding the evolution of ideas reflected in literary works.
Assessment criteria: Can explain and describe features of literary movements, relate texts to their historical, political, and cultural contexts, identify literary techniques and their effects in selected texts, express ideas logically and coherently in oral or written form, develop original interpretations supported by textual evidence.
Teaching and learning materials: Visual Aids: Literature in English S6 Student's Book (REB). Printed extracts, comprehension worksheets, grammar exercises. Multimedia resources (videos, online articles, author documentaries). Blackboard/whiteboard, flashcards, posters showing literary timelines.

Topic Area: Literary Genres			Sub-Topic Area: Prose
S6: Literature in English		Unit 2: Structure in Modern Prose		Nº of Periods 35
Key unit competence: To be able to analyze the structure of modern prose texts by identifying narrative techniques, plot organization, character development, and stylistic devices, while explaining how these elements contribute to meaning and reader engagement.
Learning objectives			Content	Learning activities
Knowledge and understanding	Skills	Attitudes and Values
Explain the main structural elements used in modern prose. Identify narrative techniques such as stream of consciousness, point of view, flashback, foreshadowing, motif, juxtaposition and narrator used in prose.	Critically analyze and interpret short stories and novels using structural devices. Compare various narrative perspectives and techniques. Write coherent analyses and essays on structure and literary style.	Appreciate creativity and innovation in prose writing. Develop critical and independent thinking in literary analysis. Show respect for diverse cultural and literary expressions. Demonstrate cooperation, focus, and	Characteristics of Prose Review of Plot Development (exposition, rising action, climax, falling action, resolution) Structural Devices in Modern Prose (Stream of Consciousness, Point of View, Flashback, Foreshadowing, Motif Juxtaposition, Narrator (Objective, Omniscient)) Language Focus Types of sentences: Types of sentences according to function (declarative, interrogative,	Reading and discussing selected short stories and novel extracts. Group discussions on structural devices and their effects. Identifying and explaining narrative techniques in given passages. Oral presentations and debates on character and plot development. Writing analytical essays on selected prose texts.

Explain how structural devices contribute to plot development and meaning. Demonstrate understanding of the relationship between structure, theme, and character development in prose.	Communicate ideas effectively through discussions and presentations.	discipline during literary discussions and group work.	imperative, exclamatory) Types of sentences according to structure (simple, compound, complex, compound-complex) Word formation processes: Blending, clipping, conversion, borrowing, etc.	Grammar exercises focusing on sentence structure and word formation. Peer assessment and teacher-guided evaluations.
--	---	---	---	--

Link to other subjects: English Language: reinforces grammar and writing skills. History: connects literature to historical contexts. Civic Education: explores moral and social values. ICT: supports research and presentation. Entrepreneurship: fosters creativity and innovation. Kiswahili/French Literature: promotes comparative analysis across languages.

Assessment criteria: Can define and explain literary terms accurately, identify and interpret structural devices correctly, evaluate their impact on meaning, use correct grammar and style, and demonstrate cooperation and focus during class activities. Assessment through tests, essays, discussions, and presentations.

Teaching and learning materials: Literature in English S6 Student's Book (REB), When the Sun Goes Down and Other Stories from Africa and Beyond, Selected Set Novel, Teacher's guide and notes, Whiteboard and markers, Audio-visual materials (films or recordings of prose readings), Internet resources and ICT tools (laptops, projectors), Worksheets and handouts for practice and assessment.

Topic Area: Literary Genres			Sub-Topic Area: Prose
S6: Literature in English		Unit 3: Comparative Analysis of Prose		Nº of Periods 35
Key unit competence: To analyze similarities and differences between two prose works, focusing on themes, characters, style, structure, and context.
Learning objectives			Content	Learning activities
Knowledge and understanding	Skills	Attitudes and Values
Define and explain key aspects of prose (plot, character, setting, theme, tone, etc.). Identify similarities and differences in themes, characters, style, and structure across prose texts. Explain the techniques of comparison and	Analyze and compare prose texts critically and coherently. Apply appropriate comparative techniques in literary analysis. Synthesize ideas from different texts to draw meaningful conclusions. Communicate analytical findings effectively through speech and writing.	Appreciate literary diversity and creativity across cultures. Develop respect for different viewpoints and interpretations. Demonstrate collaboration, critical thinking, and focus during group and individual tasks.	Review of key aspects of prose: Plot, Character, Characterization, Setting, Theme, Subject, Message, Tone, Mood, Atmosphere, Purpose, Audience, Point of View. Techniques for Comparison and Contrast in Prose Point-by-point method Block method Similarities-to-differences approach	Reading and discussing selected short stories and novels. Group discussions comparing characters, themes, and contexts. Identifying similarities and differences through guided questions. Writing comparative essays using point-by-point and block methods.

contrast (point-by-point and block method).	Interpret the influence of historical, cultural, social, and economic contexts on prose works.	Cultivate integrity and fairness when evaluating literary works.	Comparative study of two short Stories Focus on: Title (Direct or indirect), theme, characters, characterization, setting, plot, conflict, point of view, style and language, tone, mood, literary devices, message, purpose, audience. Comparative study of two set Novels Focus on: Title (Direct or indirect), theme, characters, characterization, setting, plot, conflict, point of view, style and language, tone, mood, literary devices, message, purpose, audience and context (Historical, Cultural, Social and Economic) Language Focus Stress and intonation Letter and CV writing	Oral presentations and peer evaluation. Practicing stress, intonation, and formal writing tasks. Teacher-led reflection and self-assessment.
---	--	--	--	---

Link to other subjects: English Language: Strengthens learners' language proficiency, especially in grammar, composition, vocabulary, and oral communication, which are essential for writing and presenting comparative analyses effectively. History: Helps learners understand the historical, political, and social contexts influencing literary works, enhancing their interpretation of themes and characters. Civic Education: Promotes moral values, empathy, fairness, and respect for different perspectives presented in prose texts.

ICT (Information and Communication Technology): Facilitates digital research on authors, contexts, and literary criticism; supports multimedia presentations and use of online literary resources. Entrepreneurship: Encourages innovation, problem-solving, and critical thinking when analyzing characters' decisions, motivations, and consequences within prose works.

Kiswahili and French Literature: Enables cross-cultural literary comparison, appreciation of stylistic diversity, and recognition of universal human experiences across languages and cultures.

Assessment criteria: Can define and apply comparison techniques, identify similarities and differences accurately, interpret context effectively, express ideas clearly in written/oral form, and show critical thinking and cooperation during learning. Assessment through essays, discussions, oral presentations, and tests.

Teaching and learning materials: English Language: Reinforces grammar, composition, and oral expression. History: Connects literary works to social and historical events. Civic Education: Promotes ethical judgment, respect, and empathy. ICT: Supports digital research and presentations. Entrepreneurship: Encourages creativity and critical analysis. Kiswahili/French Literature: Enhances cross-cultural literary understanding and comparative analysis skills.

Topic Area: Literary Genres			Sub-Topic Area: Poetry
S6: Literature in English		Unit 4: Rhyme and Rhythm		Nº of Periods 21
Key unit competence: To interpret poetry by analysing its form, structure, content, language, sounds patterns and stylistic devices for artistic expression and everyday communication.
Learning objectives			Content	Learning activities
Knowledge and understanding	Skills	Attitudes and Values
Define rhyme, rhythm, and meter in poetry. Identify and distinguish different types of rhyme: masculine, feminine, slant, eye, and perfect rhyme. Recognize and describe metrical patterns: iambic, trochaic, anapestic, dactylic, and spondaic. Explain the role of rhyme and rhythm in enhancing the mood, tone, and flow of a poem.	Analyze rhyme schemes and rhythmic patterns in poems. Compose short verses or stanzas using specific rhyme and rhythm patterns. Interpret how rhyme and rhythm influence meaning and emotion in poetry.	Appreciate the aesthetic and musical qualities of poetry. Develop attentiveness and creativity in poetic analysis and performance. Show discipline, cooperation, and confidence during group readings and discussions.	Rhyme Types of rhyme (masculine rhyme, feminine,, slant rhyme, eye rhyme ,internal rhyme, end rhyme and perfect rhyme, end rhyme) Rhythm and Meter Types of Meter: • Iamb (iambic) • Trochee (trochaic) • Anapest (anapestic) • Dactyl (dactylic) • Spondee (spondaic)	Reading and reciting poems emphasizing rhyme and rhythm. Group discussions analyzing rhyme types and their effects. Identifying metrical patterns through guided reading exercises. Practicing rhythmic reading and stressing syllables correctly. Writing short poems using specific rhyme and rhythm schemes. Grammar exercises on future tenses.

Identify rhyme schemes and rhythmic patterns in poems. Read poems aloud with proper rhythm, stress, and intonation.		Value poetry as a form of artistic and cultural expression.	Scansion Identifying rhythmic pattern in the poems Language Focus Use of Simple Future, Future Continuous, and Future Perfect tenses.	Reading and analyzing selected poems focusing on each rhyme type. Peer evaluation and teacher-guided reflection.
Link to other subjects: Language: English Language: Reinforces pronunciation, stress, and sentence rhythm. Music: Connects poetic rhythm to musical beats and tempo. ICT: Supports research and access to audio poems online. Civic Education: Enhances appreciation of cultural expression and teamwork. Entrepreneurship: Promotes creativity and innovation in poetic composition.
Assessment criteria: Can identify and define rhyme and rhythm accurately, analyze metrical patterns in poems, demonstrate correct reading rhythm, use rhyme in creative writing, and apply correct grammar in written tasks. Assessment through oral reading, written tests, poem composition, and participation.
Teaching and learning materials: Literature in English S6 Student's Book (REB), Selected poems (e.g., Sonnet 114 by William Shakespeare, The Song of Hiawatha by Henry W. Longfellow), Audio recordings of poems, ICT tools (projector, speakers, internet)

Topic Area: Literary Genres			Sub-Topic Area: Poetry
S6: Literature in English		Unit 5: Appreciation of Poetry		Nº of Periods 21
Key Unit Competence: To analyze and interpret poetry by examining its form, structure, content, language, sound and stylistic devices, and to use them correctly in everyday communication.
Learning objectives			Content	Learning activities
Knowledge and understanding	Skills	Attitudes and Values
Define and explain poetic concepts such as form, structure, tone, and imagery. Identify elements of poetry: rhyme, rhythm, meter, stanza structure, and enjambment. Explain how poetic techniques convey meaning, mood, and message.	To analyze different poems critically. Identify and interpret poetic devices in given texts. Compare poems based on themes, tone, and language. Express personal interpretation and emotional response to poems. Compose short reflective or	Appreciate poetry as a medium for emotional and artistic expression. Develop sensitivity to language, rhythm, and tone. Show open-mindedness toward diverse cultural and poetic perspectives.	Analyzing poems: Focus Appreciating forms and structure Type and form of poem, stanza structure, rhyme scheme, rhythm and meter, line length and breaks, repetition and refrain, punctuation and enjambment) Content Title, subject matter, theme, message, persona, voice, tone, mood, purpose, and reader’s response.	Reading and reciting selected poems aloud. Group discussions analyzing structure, tone, and imagery. Identifying poetic devices and explaining their effects. Comparing different poets’ styles and themes. Writing analytical essays and reflective responses.

To identify types of poems.	analytical pieces on poetic themes. Interpret sound devices, figurative language, and diction used in poetry	Demonstrate cooperation, respect, and creativity during discussions and presentations. D	Sound Devices in Poetry: Alliteration, assonance, consonance, onomatopoeia, rhyme, and rhythm. Context Language Diction (poetic diction), Poetic license. Figurative Language and Imagery Imagery: Visual, auditory, olfactory, tactile, gustatory. Stylistic devices: Apostrophe, allusion, sarcasm, paradox, irony, metonymy, synecdoche, litotes, euphemism, anaphora, oxymoron, rhetorical question, anadiplosis. Language Focus: Double comparatives.	Performing dramatized readings to convey mood and tone. Grammar exercises on double comparatives. Peer assessment and teacher-led feedback.
-----------------------------	--	--	--	--

Link to other subjects: English Language: Enhances comprehension, grammar, and pronunciation. History: Relates poetic context to historical events. Music: Links rhythm and sound patterns to musical expression. Civic Education: Promotes moral reflection through poetic messages. ICT: Supports online research and multimedia presentations. Entrepreneurship: Fosters creativity and self-expression.

Assessment criteria: Can identify poetic devices, interpret meaning and tone, demonstrate appreciation through discussion or performance, and apply correct grammar in writing. Evaluation through oral presentations, written tests, essays, and participation.

Teaching and learning materials: Teaching and Learning Materials

Literature in English S6 Student's Book (REB), Selected poems, Audio-visual materials (poetry recitations, videos), ICT tools (laptops, projector, internet access) and Worksheets and analysis charts for poetic devices

Topic Area: Literary Genres			Sub-Topic Area: Poetry
S6: Literature in English		Unit 6: Comparative Analysis in Poetry		Nº of Periods 21
Key unit competence: To analyze poems from different authors, periods, and cultures by identifying and evaluating their themes, styles, literary devices, sound patterns, and cultural contexts to interpret meaning and communicate informed responses.
Learning objectives			Content	Learning activities
Knowledge and understanding	Skills	Attitudes and Values
Explain the concept of comparative poetry analysis. Identify similarities and differences between poems in form, structure, and themes. Recognize and explain various poetic devices and sound patterns (rhyme, rhythm, meter, alliteration, etc.). Demonstrate understanding of the cultural, historical, and social contexts	Interpret and compare poems critically. Analyze and evaluate themes and stylistic features across cultures and time periods. Use appropriate literary terminology in discussions and written responses.	Appreciate the diversity of poetic traditions across cultures and time periods. Develop sensitivity to different cultural expressions and worldviews. Foster creativity, empathy, and open-mindedness in literary interpretation. Respect different opinions during	Comparing Sonnet to Sonnet Comparing Sonnet to Free Verse Comparing Tanka to Limerick Comparing Epic to Ballad Comparing Elegy to epitaph. Language Focus: Language used in different settings (court, hospital, market, bank,	Reading and listening to different poems aloud for rhythm and sound patterns. Comparing themes, tone, and structure in selected pairs of poems. Identifying poetic devices, imagery, and diction used by authors. Investigating the social and cultural backgrounds of the poets.

influencing poetic expression. Differentiate between poetic forms such as sonnet, free verse, tanka, limerick, ballad, epic, and elegy. Identify tone, mood, and imagery in poetry.		literary discussions and debates. Value poetry as a form of artistic and emotional expression.	church, school, etc.) Subject inversion	Writing a short comparative paragraph or poem imitating the studied styles. Comparing poems in groups or pairs. Practicing sentence inversion and formal expressions related to poetry discussions.
--	--	--	---	--

Link to other subjects: English Language: Vocabulary development, grammar (subject inversion), essay writing. History: Understanding of historical and cultural contexts influencing poets. Civic Education: Appreciation of human values, justice, equality, and empathy through poetry. Music: Awareness of rhythm, sound, and performance in poetry.

Assessment criteria: Can demonstrate a clear understanding of different poetic forms, themes, and literary devices. They will analyze and interpret poems critically, explaining similarities and differences between them using relevant textual evidence. Learners will apply their analytical skills in written and oral comparative tasks, showing coherence, organization, and accuracy in their responses. They will use appropriate literary terminology and correct grammar in both spoken and written communication. Learners will participate actively and creatively in group discussions and presentations. They will show respect and appreciation for diverse poetic expressions and cultural perspectives. The overall evaluation will include written comparative essays, oral presentations, class participation.

Teaching and learning material: · Literature in English Student's Book S4 & S5 Chalkboard/whiteboard, flashcards, charts, Poetry notebooks for comparative notes and reflections, Selected anthologies of world poetry, Internet literary databases or poetry websites, Poetry handouts and audio recordings.

Topic Area: Literary Genres			Sub-Topic Area: Drama
S6: Literature in English		Unit 7: Comparative Analysis in Drama		Nº of Periods 28
Key unit competence: To analyze and compare dramatic texts by examining genres, themes, characters, plot, setting, dialogue, language use, and performance techniques in order to explain how similarities and differences contribute to meaning and dramatic effect in selected plays.
Learning objectives			Content	Learning activities
Knowledge and understanding	Skills	Attitudes and Values
Explain the genres and key aspects of drama and describe how playwrights' backgrounds influence dramatic texts.	Analyze and compare selected dramatic texts using appropriate drama vocabulary and comparative language.	Appreciate drama as a reflection of human experiences, cultures, and societal issues.	Review of the Genres and Key Aspects of Drama	Learners read and analyze selected plays to identify key aspects of drama such as plot, conflict, dialogue, setting, mood, audience, and performance.
Describe similarities and differences among selected plays in terms of themes, characters, plot structure, setting, and dramatic techniques.	Use connectors effectively in speaking and writing to express similarities, differences, causes, and conclusions in comparative analysis.	Develop respect for different dramatic styles, themes, and interpretations presented in various plays.	Comparative Analysis of African Plays.	Learners compare and contrast two selected plays using appropriate comparative language and drama vocabulary.
Explain how language and stylistic choices, including			Comparative Analysis of African and European Plays	Learners analyze similarities and differences between selected plays in terms of themes, social issues, characterization, setting, plot development, and conflict.
			Comparative Analysis of European Plays	Learners examine the structure, themes, and characters of set plays and discuss their significance.

expressions: on time, in time, at the end, in the end to contribute to meaning and dramatic effect in comparative analysis. Analyze the use of dramatic techniques such as dialogue, stage directions, irony, and symbolism in shaping meaning across different plays. Evaluate how context (social, historical, and cultural) influences the interpretation and comparison of dramatic texts.	Demonstrate critical thinking and communication skills through discussion, writing, and performance activities related to drama. Apply textual evidence from plays to support comparisons and interpretations of dramatic texts. Present clear oral and written comparisons of dramatic texts using appropriate structure, coherence, and accuracy.	Show confidence, creativity, collaboration, and critical thinking while analyzing and comparing dramatic texts. Demonstrate openness by accepting and valuing different interpretations of dramatic texts. Promote moral awareness and cultural understanding through engagement with dramatic works.	Language focus: On Time / In Time and At the End / In the End.	Learners dramatize selected scenes to demonstrate understanding of dialogue, characterization, and stage directions. Learners compare the use of dramatic techniques in different scenes or plays. Learners use connectors, comparative expressions, and language structures such as on time, in time, at the end, and in the end correctly in speaking and writing activities related to drama comparison. Learners write short scripts or create improvisations using learned dramatic techniques. Learners watch recorded plays or local performances and analyze their dramatic element
---	--	--	--	--

Link to other subjects: English Language: Grammar, vocabulary, oral presentation, and writing skills. History: Understanding the historical context and cultural background of plays. Civic Education: Exploration of moral, ethical, and social issues represented in drama. Music and Art: Use of sound, costume, and visual design in performances.

Assessment criteria: Can identify and explain key dramatic terms and elements. They will analyze how plot, theme, setting, and characters interact to build meaning. They will Use appropriate vocabulary, grammar, and style in written and oral tasks.

Teaching and Learning Materials: Selected play scripts, anthologies, and audio/visual recordings, Chalkboard/ whiteboard, charts, flashcards of dramatic terms, Costumes, props, lighting materials, stage space, Projector, videos of theatrical performances, and digital platforms for drama analysis.

Topic Area: Literary Genres			Sub-Topic Area: Drama
S6: Literature in English		Unit 8: Script Writing and Performing		Nº of Periods 35
Key unit competence: To create and perform original or adapted scripts that demonstrate creativity, correct language use, and effective communication of ideas and emotions to an audience.
Learning objectives			Content	Learning activities
Knowledge and understanding	Skills	Attitudes and Values
Define and explain the meaning and purpose of a script. Identify different types of scripts (e.g., stage, radio, and film). Describe the correct format and layout of a script. Explain the main elements of a script such as	Generate and organize ideas for script writing through brainstorming. Create coherent and engaging storylines with well-developed characters and themes. Apply correct script formatting and layout conventions. Edit, revise, and improve scripts for clarity, creativity, and accuracy.	Appreciate teamwork, discipline, and commitment in drama production. Show creativity, originality, and self-confidence in writing and performing. Develop respect for others' ideas and constructive criticism.	Introduction to Script Writing: Meaning and purpose Types, format, and layout of a script Elements of a Script: Plot, characters, setting, theme, dialogue, and stage directions Script Writing and Performing Process: Brainstorming, character selection, storyline development, drafting, editing, rehearsing, performing, and PFP (Performance–Feedback–Perfection)	Reading and analyzing scripts to identify format and elements. Exploring types and purposes of scripts in different media. Developing story ideas and select characters for original scripts. Drafting, editing and refining scripts in groups or individually. Practicing delivery, stage movement, and expression.

plot, character, setting, theme, dialogue, and stage directions. Understand the process of script writing and performance from idea generation to final presentation.	Rehearse and perform original or adapted plays effectively. Use appropriate body language, tone, and expression during performance. Evaluate peer performances and provide constructive feedback.	Cultivate perseverance and responsibility throughout the creative process. Value drama as a means of communication, education, and entertainment.	Scripts writing by Students (group writing activities) Performing Students' Plays: Group presentations and peer evaluation Performing Set Plays: Rehearsals and performance of selected set plays Language Focus: – Use of modal verbs (ought to, should, need), speech and – Minutes writing	Performing original and set plays before peers. Engaging in PFP (Performance – Feedback – Perfection) to improve scripts and acting. Using modal verbs, writing minutes.
Link to other subjects: English Language: Grammar, speech writing, vocabulary development, and writing skills. Entrepreneurship: Organization, planning, and teamwork during production. ICT: Script typing, editing, and digital performance recording. Music and Art: Use of sound, costume, and stage design in performance. Civic Education: Promoting moral values and social awareness through dramatic themes.
Assessment criteria: Can demonstrate understanding of script meaning, purpose, and format. They identify and apply key elements of a script (plot, character, theme, dialogue, etc.). Learners create original or adapted scripts that show creativity, structure, and correct language use. They edit and revise their work to improve coherence and clarity. Learners perform confidently, using clear speech, body movement, and expression. They give and receive constructive feedback during rehearsals and performances. Active participation, teamwork, and respect for others' contributions are observed throughout the process.
Teaching and learning material: Literature in English set plays and other approved books. Samples of stage, radio, and film scripts. Chalkboard, whiteboard, writing materials, and flashcards. Props, costumes, lighting, and stage area. Audio/video recordings, projectors, and digital script templates.

LIST OF REFERENCES

1. enani, S., Ilieva, P., & Olembo, D. (Eds.). (n.d.). When the sun goes down and other stories from Africa and beyond. Publisher unknown.
2. Longfellow, H. W. (1855). The song of Hiawatha. Ticknor and Fields.
3. Ministry of Education. (n.d.). Upper secondary curriculum framework. Government of Rwanda.
4. Ministry of Finance and Economic Planning. (2020). Vision 2050. Government of Rwanda.
5. Ministry of Finance and Economic Planning. (2024). National Strategy for Transformation (NST2), 2024–2029. Government of Rwanda.
6. National Examination and School Inspection Authority. (n.d.). National assessment guidelines and examination framework. NESA.
7. Rwanda Basic Education Board. (2020). Competence-based curriculum framework. REB.
8. Rwanda Basic Education Board. (n.d.). Literature in English S6 student's book. REB.
9. Shakespeare, W. (1609). Sonnet 114.
10. OpenAI. (2026). ChatGPT (GPT-5.5) [Large language model]. <https://chatgpt.com/>